AFFAIRS IN FRANCE.

Polish Affairs—Perplexities of the Emperor—The Prince Napoleon—The King of Araucania—Mr. Peabody's Fetes at Nice.

From Our Own Correspondent.

PARIS, Tuesday, March 31, 1863.

The perplexities of the Emperor about Poland seem to be drawing to an end; his Majesty has fallen back on that haven of safety for all critical moments—his democratic origin. Issued from universal suffrage, he must represent the opinions and the feelings of the people who placed him in power, and these indicate to him that he must lend to Poland all the aid which circumstances permit. But how far do circumstances permit him to lend his aid? Certainly not to the extent of making war, and this is exactly what has enabled him to come to a conclusion, or rather driven him to a conclusion. The French people have indicated to him that a war will be too costly, and, at the same time, that their sympathies are warmly enlisted in favor of the Poles. He stands instructed therefore, not to provoke a war with Russia, but to push that power as far as he can diplomatically into concessions toward Poland. But NAPOLEON cares little for the sufferings of Poland, and is annoyed at the position of antagonism in which he finds himself placed to the Court of Russia—a court which he has been at so much pains to conciliate for the last few years, and to range in the list of safe allies; so that when Russia shows a coolness toward France, as she is doing at this moment, and reproaches her with her hostility, the Emperor, as I said in the commencement, takes refuge in his democratic origin, and points out to his brother ALEXANDER that he is the issue of universal suffrage, and owes a certain deference to the famous seven millions who voted for the Empire and who now reclaim for the Poles the right also of voting for their own ruler. Now the result of all this will be—and this is the most interesting part of it—that ALEXANDER of Russia will have the beau rôle to play in the matter; for, while on the surface he may pretend to be vexed with his friend NAPOLEON, he knows that, after all, NAPOLEON sympathizes with him and does not care for Poland, and that he will go no further in his pressure in favor of the Poles than he can help; so that, in definitive, there will be no war between France and Russia, and if Russia finally grants concessions to Poland, it will not be from fear of France or in deference to her diplomatic notes, but because the public opinion of the whole world reclaims them, and because ALEXANDER is disposed to reforms and to a general policy of leniency.

For most people, however, this coolness between the Courts of St. Petersburgh and Paris is real, and we see its effects here in the absence of Russian people from the official soirées, and from the public places and reunions where the official people are to be met. The Prince NAPOLEON is naturally the principal object of this international resentment, and it is said that the Baron DE BUDBERG, Russian Ambassador to France, has declared, since the Prince's famous speech in the Senate in defence of the Poles, that he would refuse to salute him hereafter. On the other hand, the aristocratic circles of French society are scandalized and outraged at the brutalities of one of their pets, the Prince BRAGATION, whose atrocious massacre of non-combatants in one of the Polish towns will not have escaped your attention. Here was one of the wealthiest and most elegant, most pampered and most sought after of Winter fashionables at Paris—a man who was welcome in every house, and whose own soirées were an event in the fashionable world, who turns out to be a wolf in sheep's clothing, a butcher of the Haynau stamp in the garb of an elegant man of the world. The gentle ladies of the noble Faubourg raise their hands in mute astonishment, and every one is recalling that famous remark of the first Emperor: "Scratch a Russian, and you are sure to find a Cossack underneath."

You have probably remarked the rise, decline and fall of ORELIA ANTONY I., King of Araucania, known in his native village of Chournac, in France, as Monsieur DE TONNANS, attorney-at-law. Paris is the place where all the world's fallen notabilities come to promenade their chagrin and their complaints, and where they are just as sure finally to fall as is the fly into the night lamp, and it is only in the common order of things, therefore, that we can now announce that we have the illustrious Ex-King of Araucania "within our walls." M. DE TONNANS, before his departure for Chili and the land of Araucania, was a crazy and briefless lawyer, totally unknown beyond the limits of his native town. His voyage to Chili was a caprice, and his fall among the people of the province of Araucania an accident. How the poor, simple people of this province made him King, or rather permitted him to proclaim himself King, and how the Chilian Government seized and imprisoned him, you are already informed. It was not difficult for the diplomatic agent of France to obtain from the Chilian Government his pardon and release, for the demand was based on the utter inoffensiveness of the prisoner. The only condition fixed to the pardon was that he should be returned at once to France. The Ex-King has therefore arrived, and, like other illustrious exiles, is occupying himself with the publication of his memoirs. He is already furnishing food for the literary world, and especially for the photographers and illustrated journals. But perhaps the promise of his forthcoming memoirs is only a canard of these same literary men—for did they not also promise us the memoirs of SOULOUQUE?

ROCHEBRUNE, also, the famous commander of the Polish "Zouaves of Death," is now within our walls. ROCHEBRUNE is a child of the people, from the department of Vienne, in France, is aged 32, but how he happened to find himself at the head of the University boys in the Polish insurrection, does not yet appear. But he seems to have performed prodigies of valor at the head of his regiment of Zouaves de la Mort, and with his dare-devil military air and striking costume is destined to create as much enthusiasm in France as he did among the Poles. He is said to be on a secret mission to the French Government, and will return again to his command.

You will have seen by this time a description of the magnificent fêtes given by Mr. GEORGE PEABODY at Nice, in honor of the marriage of the Prince of Wales, and I only mention the circumstance here to tell you that the fact of a simple republican entertaining at his house Kings and Princes of the first houses of Europe has created no little talk at Paris. The circumstance is, in fact, a little out of the usual order of things, but where, after all, is there a nobler nobleman than Mr. PEABODY, or any one more worthy or more capable of entertaining royalty?

The news of a dispute between England and the United States, on account of the capture of the Peterhoff, caused quite a fall in the funds at the Paris Bourse, two days ago.

Madame GRAEVER JOHNSON, of New-York, aided by the German composer, LITTOLFF, has just given another monster concert at the Hotel du Louvre, and the papers are not only full of her praises, but also of her handsome physiognomy. Mr. WHEAT, of New-Orleans, a young pianist of merit, (a brother of Gen. WHEAT, killed at Fair Oaks,) gave a concert last evening in company with a young German violinist named ROSE. The Salle Pleyel was crowded by the friends of the young artists, and their performances were loudly applauded.

MALAKOFF.

AMERICAN MATTERS IN ENGLAND.

UNOFFICIAL DECLARATIONS OF PALMERSTON.

Lord PALMERSTON was formally installed as Lord Rector of the Glasgow University on the 30th ult., in the midst of much enthusiasm. He made an appropriate address to the students. In the evening a grand banquet was given to Lord PALMERSTON in the City Hall at Glasgow. His speech was mainly devoted to an encomium on the results of Free-trade as exemplified in Glasgow, where ADAM SMITH first inculcated his doctrines of political economy. He expatiated on the anxious desire of the Government to remain at peace, while at the same time it would tolerate no insult or provocation from other Powers. He referred as follows to America:

"But I am glad to say there never was a time when this country was upon better terms of friendship with all the other nations of the world. I advert not to those contending parties in America who sue us like rivals who sue a fair damsel—each party wanting us to take up her cause, and each feeling some little stinging resentment on account of that neutrality which both of them in some degree characterise as unfriendliness, but setting aside this feeling which creates no irritation in our minds and does not in any degree diminish that friendly feeling which ought to prevail between kindred races as they are—but, I say, barring that, we may safely congratulate ourselves that there is no Government, that there is no nation with whom we have political or commercial intercourse with whom we are not upon terms of the most satisfactory friendship, and long may that continue.

On the 31st Lord PALMERSTON attended a soirée of the working classes in the City Hall of Glasgow, and was presented with an address. In the course of his speech he alluded as follows to American affairs:

"It will be our anxious desire to pursue a course calculated to preserve the peace and welfare of the country, and we have done so in regard to the lamentable events passing among our kinsmen on the North American continent, and in spite of great invitations from each of the two parties to take a more active part in the contest than we have thought it our duty, and for the national interests that we should take. [Loud cheers.] There are in the United Kingdom, as there are in America, Federal and Confederate advocates. There are some who wish success to the North, there are others who desire to see the separation of the South from the North. It is not fitting or becoming that the British nation, as a nation, should take part in the contest. It is a lamentable event in the history of mankind, and depend upon it, that, though war in any circumstances is a great affliction to a country; of all wars which most afflict a nation, civil war is the one most to be deplored; for there you have fighting brother against brother, relation ranged against relation. You have a contest scattered over a wide surface of country, and you have desolation marking the tracks of each contending army, perhaps greater even than would be inflicted by the invasion of a foreign force. We lament that state of things. We should be most happy if it had been in the power of this country, by amicable interposition, to reconcile those conflicting parties; but we felt, and we know, that any attempts of that kind in the existing state of things would have an effect the very reverse of that which was intended. It would not accomplish the purpose in view, and might render it difficult if not impossible, if a different state of things should arise, that the friendly counsels of England could then be listened to with success. [Cheers.] I am persuaded that you, gentlemen, and the rest of the people of England, think that we acted rightly in taking that decision. That war has, indeed, inflicted deep sufferings and privations upon a large portion of the working classes of this country—less, perhaps, in point of interest here in Glasgow than in Manchester and other towns in the manufacturing districts, but even here it must have been grievously felt, and many persons might have thought we, by taking part in the contest and declaring ourselves for one side or the other, might have put an end to that privation and terminated those sufferings. But that would have been a short-sighted view, and, depend upon it, if we had taken that course, we should have failed in our object, and increased instead of diminishing the sufferings which we intended to alleviate."

THE CAPTURE OF THE PETERHOFF.

STATEMENT FROM THE AGENT OF LLOYDS.

The agent for Lloyds at Matamoras, who was on board the Peterhoff when she was captured by a Federal cruiser, gives the following account of the seizure:

The Peterhoff, Capt. S. JARMAN, left Falmouth for St. Thomas and Matamoras on the evening of the 27th of January. On the 20th of February we were boarded by a boat from a small schooner under the Dutch flag, which we took to be a pilot boat, but proved to be otherwise. Shortly after we observed a steamer approaching us, which, when she got near, hoisted the United States flag. The Peterhoff had the British ensign flying, and was proceeding in course for the harbor of St. Thomas. Close to the shore of St. John's Island, the United States steamer fired a blank charge, and then a shotted gun. We had no sails set at that time, but the engine was immediately stopped. A boat from the United States steamer boarded us while in Danish waters. The boarding officer said he came from the United States steamer Alabama. He examined the Peterhoff's papers, and allowed her to proceed, declining to indorse his visit and examination, on the plea that he had no authority to do so. The Peterhoff remained in St. Thomas harbor, for the purpose of completing her supply of coal, till the 25th of February. During her stay, Admiral WILKES, of Trent notoriety, arrived in harbor with the United States steamers Wachusett and Oneida, and declared publicly that the Alabama should have made a prize of the Peterhoff. In going out of the harbor it was found that the engine was disabled, and the ship stood out under easy sail. Outside we saw the United States steamer Vanderbilt coming up under steam. She exchanged signals with the Admiral inside, and, as we heard afterward, was ordered to overhaul us. At 2 P. M., a boat boarded us; the officer remained below about three-quarters of an hour examining the ship's papers. He left for the Vanderbilt, directing the Peterhoff to be kept hove to till his return, when he stated that her papers were not quite satisfactory, and requested Capt. JARMAN to go on board the Vanderbilt with the ship's papers, &c., saying that he was authorized to say that if Capt. JARMAN refused, an armed boat's crew would be sent to take him by force. Capt. JARMAN said he held a commission in the Royal Naval Reserve, and had in charge Her Majesty's mail for Matamoras; that he would not leave his ship, especially after the threat which had been held out, but they were welcome to come on board, examine the papers and search the ship. The boat left, Capt. JARMAN assuring the officer in charge that his papers were open to the inspection of any officer sent from the Vanderbilt, but that he would not allow them to be taken, nor would he leave his ship with them, unless compelled by force to do so. At 4 P. M., we were boarded by two armed boats from the Vanderbilt, and Lieut. ALEXANDER, United States Navy, took temporary charge of the Peterhoff till the Vanderbilt could communicate with St. Thomas. The Vanderbilt immediately steamed back to St. Thomas. At 7:05, Lieut. ALEXANDER ordered Capt. JARMAN, his mate, and all the passengers to go down to the cabin, and to remain there. An armed sentry was placed on guard over us. 9 P. M.—Again boarded by a boat from the Vanderbilt. Officer came down stairs into the cabin to deliver a message from Capt. BALDWIN, United States Navy, to Capt. JARMAN to give up his papers, that they might be sent on board with them. Capt. JARMAN said that he would not give up his papers to any one but the British Consul, or to his order; that he would not give them up to be taken out of the ship, nor would he leave her himself, unless compelled by force to do so; that they were all at his service to be examined on board the Peterhoff, and that Capt. BALDWIN might send him or any number of officers to make the examination. 9:50 P. M.—Boat came again from the Vanderbilt; officer with Capt. BALDWIN'S compliments, and wishes to have the papers of the ship. Capt. JARMAN declined to let them go out of the vessel, when the officer took possession of the Peterhoff in the name of the United States, and declared that Capt. JARMAN was no longer in command, and that he and all the passengers were to remain confined to the cabin. Another officer was sent down to demand that all arms in possession of Capt. JARMAN and passengers should be given up, threatening search in case of refusal. Accordingly, several pistols and knives were given up and sent on board the Vanderbilt. About 11 P. M., Capt. JARMAN wrote Capt. BALDWIN that he considered the capture of the Peterhoff to be an illegal act, as her papers had been examined and passed by the Alabama a few days previously, and that as he had Her Majesty's mails for Matamoras on board, he requested that, to avoid delay in their delivery, Capt. BALDWIN would deliver them to Her Majesty's Consul at St. Thomas, so that he might send them on. At ten minutes past midnight an officer boarded, with a verbal message from Capt. BALDWIN, who sent his compliments, and that he did not feel authorized to take any part of the freight out of the ship. Next morning the Vanderbilt left us, and the Peterhoff made sail for Key West, in charge of the prize officers and crew. I have thus far narrated the voyage of the Peterhoff, which vessel, loaded with goods not contraband of war, and having had her papers examined and passed in London, Plymouth and Falmouth, has been fired at and overhauled in Danish waters by the United States steamer Alabama, by which vessel her papers were passed. On leaving St. Thomas she had the certificate of Acting Consul Mr. BALL, and, nevertheless, was overhauled just outside the port by the United States steamer Vanderbilt. I have learned from the prize captain that Capt. BALDWIN wished to let her go, but was compelled to take possession by express orders from Admiral WILKES.

The Times thinks it probable that the United States Prize Court at Key West will immediately release the vessel, but there remains the question not only of damages, but of the necessity of obtaining a guarantee against a repetition of such discreditable proceedings.

The Times regards the capture of the Peterhoff as a deliberate attempt to extend and magnify the powers of blockade. The Federals have almost blockaded certain ports of our own in their eagerness to intercept traffic between these ports and others, and at least they have gone to the length of espying inchoate adventures in this country, putting their own construction on mercantile speculation, proscribing ships beforehand by means of seizure, without reference to distinction of cargo, wherever they can be pounced upon at sea. The Times has, in short, no doubt that Admiral WILKES carried precise instructions to capture the Peterhoff. She may be released after more or less detention, and compensation papers paid on demand. The Federals will find their own recompense in the command acquired over the commerce of the seas and the alarm communicated to traders, but it can hardly be denied that such proceedings call for the serious attention of the country.

SPIRIT OF THE PRESS.

The Morning Post says, the year is commencing prosperously for the Confederate cause, both at home and abroad. Before its close we sincerely hope the gallant struggle, in which the Southern States have engaged in vindication of their independence, may be crowned with complete success.

The Daily News thinks England may suffer hereafter for the precedent it has given by the building of the Alabama. It is to be hoped, however, the Government will not be negligent in future, and will put the law in motion. The Daily News agrees with the Solicitor General as to the impropriety of English merchants entering into illegal transactions.

The London Times of the 1st, in reviewing American affairs, says:

"The latest news from America makes it abundantly evident, if it were not so before, that the choice henceforth for the South is between victory and extermination—for the North between peace and ruin. The Northern Confederacy, though able to effect the fruitless crime of drowning whole provinces by breaking down the bank of a mighty river, is incapable of defending her archives, her public public buildings, and the seat of her Government. There is much reason to believe that Washington owes her safety at the present moment to prudential and political rather than to military considerations."

THE REBEL LOAN.

NO MORE TO BE ASKED FOR.

The Morning Herald is assured, on indisputable authority, that the Confederate Government will not contract any fresh loan in Europe this year, nor in all likelihood till after the close of the war.

From the London News, March 31.

With reference to a rumor which continues to be circulated, to the effect that the Confederate Government contemplates raising a further loan in this country, we have received the following contradiction from an authoritative source:

"We are informed on the best authority that there exists no foundation whatever for the rumor that any other loan is contemplated by the Confederate Government. The fact is, indeed, exactly reverse, as they reduced the sum tendered to them—a course it would have been absurd for those to take who were desirous of more. As to any effect to be produced by the success of this loan, it is clear we shall not hear of it for a considerable period. There is no reason whatever to suppose that it will alter the views under which the present loan was reduced in amount."

THE FLUCTUATIONS.

From the Herald, March 31.

The transactions in the Confederate Cotton Loan were not very important to-day. A few sales of the small allotments were effected, and these caused a fluctuation from about 1¼ to 2 per cent. The opening price was 1½ to 2 prem.; the quotation then rallied to 1¾ to 2 prem.; and eventually at the end of the day the dealers variously made the price 1¼ to ¾ prem.; and 1½ to ¾ prem. In consequence of the enormous applications, £500, £700 and £1,000 have constituted a numerous class of allotments, and these have been freely brought to market to secure the current profit.

THE RUMORED OFFER TO OUR GOVERNMENT.

The London Times, in one of its City articles, says:

"Sufficient credence has been given at New-York to the strange statements that an offer of a loan of £20,000,000 sterling in gold has been made to the Washington Government by European capitalists to cause a reduction of 3 per cent. in the premium on that metal. If we were suffering from a deficient harvest, and the Federal Government had $50,000,000 or $100,000,000 worth of wheat, it would be very probable that such an offer might be made on the condition of the wheat being hypothecated as security, but such is not the case, and the demand on European capitalists for the promotion of public works, to extend peace, free trade and civilization are so tempting, that there is little disposition to make political loans for purely belligerent purposes to either of the American disputants, or to depart from the cold neutrality of which some of the leaders of the Peace Societies have of late angrily complained."

THE POLISH REVOLUTION.

THE LATEST FROM THE SEAT OF WAR.

A Breslau letter says the defeat of LANGIEWICZ was no sooner known at St. Petersburgh than the Russian Government, in a note addressed to their representative at Paris, expressed a willingness to improve the condition of Poland, and bestow another batch of liberal concessions upon the unfortunate country.

An Imperial ordinance had been issued appointing Gen. Count BERG, in the place of Gen. SORMORSKOW, as Adlatus of the Grand Duke CONSTANTINE in the chief command of the Army of Poland. The same ordinance also appoints Gen. LEWSCHINE Chief of the Police of Warsaw.

Vienna advices say LANGIEWICZ was still in the citadel of Cracow.

Archbishop FELINSKI, of Warsaw, in a letter to the Emperor, maintains that the only means of pacifying Poland is to unite all the Russo-Polish Provinces with the existing Kingdom into a Polish Kingdom, under the Russian Crown. Unless this is done, submission is impossible, and the country will be devastated.

The Cologne Gazette prints a report from Vienna, that the French Government insists on the complete independence of Poland, with the Duke of Leuchtemberg as a Sovereign King.

This statement is discredited.

A Cracow dispatch of March 29, says:

"Bands of insurgents under the command of MIELANCKI and KOCHANOWSKI, have had successful engagements with the Russian troops, and are increasing their exertions.

Numerous fresh bodies of insurgents have assembled under the command of Cols. DOWGIELLO and CZAHOWSKI, on the mountains of Krzyr.

LLEWL'S force has gained a victory over the Russians South of Zamosc.

The Polish insurgents of Pack and Augustows have received a thousand Minie rifles."

The Vienna papers of the 31st state that at a conference between Count RECHBERG, the DUC DE GRAMONT, the French Ambassador, and Lord BLOMFIELD, the Ambassador for England, it was agreed to address simultaneously an identical note to the Russian Government, recommending the speedy introduction into Poland of seasonable reforms.

On the 29th of March Gen. RZEWNSKI crossed the Bug, in order to commence operations in Volhvnia.

It was rumored that a Polish legion, under the command of WIEZBICKI, had marched from Tertscha, in Bulgaria, into Podolia.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

Great Britain.

Parliament was not in session owing to the Easter holidays.

The revenue returns for the quarter ending 31st March, show a slight decrease. The total revenue for the financial year ending 31st March, was £70,603,561—against £69,674,479 to March, 1862.

The British Board of Trade returns for February show the exports of the month to have been £9,298,000, against £8,320,000 in February last year.

The Cunard Company announce that, commencing on the 16th of May, they will run a fortnightly line of screw steamers to New-York, quite independent of their regular mail steamers. The new line will leave Liverpool on the same days that the Cunard mail steamers sail for Halifax and Boston. The Great Ship Company had addressed a letter to the Postmaster-General protesting against the renewal of the Galway contract as uncalled for, and as an act of injustice to those Companies which are not favored with a Government subsidy. The letter demands that, if the Galway contract is restored, the vessels be restricted to Galway as a port of departure, and not of call only.

France.

Rumors were again current that M. FOULD had tendered his resignation, and it was added that the Emperor had refused to accept it.

Later dispatches show that the difficulty was between MM. FOULD and MAGNE, and that it was the latter who had resigned. The resignation was accepted, and the Emperor addressed the following letter to M. MAGNE:

"MY DEAR M. MAGNE: An incident, the responsibility of which does not rest with you, has rendered more apparent the difference of opinion which exists between M. FOULD and yourself on several financial questions. Under these circumstances you have considered yourself bound to tender your resignation. In temporarily relinquishing your services, I wish it to be known that I have never had but to congratulate myself on your zeal and devotion; I have, therefore, resolved to give you a striking proof of my confidence by creating you a member of the Privy Council. I hope that you will never entertain any doubt of my sentiments of sincere friendship.

(Signed) NAPOLEON."

Greece.

The National Assembly of Greece on the 30th ult., unanimously proclaimed Prince WILLIAM of Denmark King of Greece, under the name of "George the First."

LONDON, Wednesday, April 1—P. M.

The Consul-General of Greece, at London, has received the following telegram:

"The National Assembly of Greece, by a decree agreed upon to-day, have unanimously proclaimed, as the constitutional King of the Greeks, Prince WILLIAM GEORGE, second son of Prince CHRISTIAN, of Denmark, under the title of GEORGE I., King of the Greeks. His successors will profess the orthodox religion. A Committee of three members, chosen by the Ministry, will proceed to Copenhagen to offer him the crown in the name of the Greek nation."

A Te Deum was celebrated to-day, and was followed by public festivities, illuminations and general rejoicings.

A dispatch, dated Aspinwall April 5, has this intelligence:

CARRERA, it is said, is preparing another expedition against Salvador.

The Moses Taylor's passengers were allowed to cross Nicaragua—some merchants having given bonds for $50,000 for the return of the steamer to the Government. The lake steamer San Juan was sold by Government to JOHN E. RUSSELL for $6,000.

JEREZ was at Latimon organizing a force of 2,000 men to invade Nicaragua.

BARRIOS would not invade Nicaragua himself, but will support any revolution against MARTINEZ.

CENTRAL AMERICA.

The War Between Guatemala and Salvador to be Renewed—Honduras Supports Salvador—Nicaragua Preparing for the Struggle—Costa Rica Against Salvador—Probability of a General Central American War.

From Our Own Correspondent.

PANAMA, Monday, April 6, 1863.

The Panama Railroad Company's steamer Salvador arrived at Panama on the 4th. Her dates from Guatemala and Salvador are to the 26th, Nicaragua to the 28th March, and Costa Rica to the 1st April. The news is important, showing, as it does, the great probability of a general Central American war, with Honduras and Salvador pitted against Guatemala, Nicaragua and Costa Rica.

We have nothing later from Nicaragua in regard to the Transit trouble than you have already received by the America, except, perhaps, the fact that the Nicaraguan Government had sold the Central American Transit Company's lake steamer San Juan to JOHN E. RUSSELL, of Realejo, for $6,000.

President CARRERA is organizing his army to invade the Republic of Salvador again, and seems determined to revenge the defeat at Coatepeque.

Gen. BARRIOS appears to be passing his time by giving feasts, &c., to his troops, in celebrating the great victory over the Chopinos, and abusing CARRERA But I presume he will be prepared to defend his territory again.

BARRIOS has declared his intention to assist JEREZ in putting down the Government of MARTINEZ in Nicaragua.

The acting President of Honduras has notified President CARRERA that he would—in accordance with a treaty existing between his Government and Salvador—be compelled to take the part of the latter in the present contest. He also complains of the agents of MARTINEZ, who, he says, have excited and caused a revolution in Honduras.

MARTINEZ, on his part, is very active in organizing forces to protect the Nicaraguan frontier. He has issued a proclamation calling upon all classes of the population to enlist in defence of the country, and his call has been responded to in every part of the State. His army now counts about 3,500 effective men—among the number the students of the college at Leon. He will no doubt give JEREZ a warm reception.

There is no news from Costa Rica, but the impression seems to be that that Government will soon take part in the war in behalf of Guatemala and Nicaragua.

SOUTH AMERICA.

The Polynesian Cooley Question—President San Roman Sick.

From Our Own Correspondent.

PANAMA, Monday, April 6, 1863.

A boat from the British steamer, just arrived in front of the town from Valparaiso and Callao, brings only one or two Lima papers. The mail will not probably be on shore in time for the train for Aspinwall, with the California passengers for New-York. Dates from Valparaiso and Santiago de Chili are to the 16th, and from Lima and Callao to the 27th.

The Lima papers represent everything as quiet in Chili and Bolivia. A new Minister was on his way from Bolivia to Peru, and it was thought that on his arrival the unfortunate differences which have so long existed between the two Republics will be satisfactorily and amicably arranged. Señor LASTARRIA, Minister from Chili to Lima, had just arrived at the latter capital.

The inhuman Polynesian Cooley system is about to be ended in Peru. The Lima Comercio, which at first published some articles favorable to it, now says:

"The Polynesians, who have been brought to this country, have proved completely useless for the purposes of agriculture, and find few purchasers among the planters. They are not accustomed to labor, and obstinately resist everything like work; thus, through pure slothfulness, they become victims to the climate, and a dead loss to their importers. Since Government had not taken timely measures to prevent this disgraceful commerce, it is consoling to see so abominable a speculation turn out more loss than profit."

Mr. PATRICK GIBSON, an Englishman, has made to the Peruvian Government proposals to build a railroad, 102 miles in length, from the mountain City of Arequipa to the port of Islay, which, it is thought, will prove acceptable. A railroad is also talked of from the City of Ica, the mine district of Peru, to Pisco, 54 miles.

President SAN ROMAN has been very sick, but was recovering.

In Ecuador, the Government has rescinded the edict against the Mosqueristas, residing in the Province of Imbabura.

The American ship Caroline Tucker, which arrived at Valparaiso on the 17th of March, from Philadelphia, had her Captain, J. B. CONGDON, Esq., washed overboard, off Cape Horn, by a great wave that swept over the deck. The Caroline Tucker was bound to Acapulco, but had to put into Valparaiso on account of leaking so badly.

A Skirmish and Capture of Twenty-one Rebels.

CAIRO, Tuesday, April 14.

The rebels in the vicinity of Fort Donelson have been gathering all the horses fit for cavalry service. To put a stop to this Gen. ROSECRANS has ordered all the good horses in the neighborhood to be taken by the National force. While engaged in this duty, 70 men, on Friday last, met about the same number of rebels. A skirmish ensued in which 21 of the latter were taken prisoners, including Major BLANDIN and two Captains.

THE MONITORS AT CHARLESTON.

Capt. Ericsson's Views.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

I feel called upon to state, for the information of the country, that the imperfections of the Monitors, shown by Admiral DUPONT'S trial of their strength at Charleston, are not of a serious character. What has happened will be readily obviated for the future. Everything connected with our new fighting machines worked precisely as intended, not a single change of plan being called for. The pilot-house proving of insufficient thickness was not an unforeseen circumstance. The limited experience which we have had in actual conflict indicated that eight inches thickness would be sufficient, but it was by no means assumed to be a settled point. Hence such a construction was adopted that, without removing the structure, or changing its interior arrangements, any number of additional plates might be attached to the exterior, and its thickness increased to any extent. So with regard to the turret; it is constructed of an interior skeleton-cylinder, composed of plates firmly riveted together, to which any number of plates may be bolted. It is by no means yet established that our turrets require increased thickness, excepting possibly at the base. The public will do well not to be alarmed by the remarks of inexperienced observers, who are startled at seeing the indentations produced by the enemy's projectiles. We apply armor to keep out hostile shot—not to prevent scars and indentations. So far we have fully succeeded.

It will be proper to observe that the supposed imperfect steering qualities are utterly groundless. There is no class of vessels in the navy that obey their helm so readily as the Monitors. The reason is self-evident. The large equipoise rudder employed is acted upon by the powerful current from the propeller with such force as to change the course of the vessel with the slightest motion of the helm. In strong currents and in shallow water, as in Charleston harbor, no vessel can be readily manœuvred.

Admiral DUPONT'S preliminary attack on Charleston—the first practical test of iron-clads—must be regarded as the most important event in naval history. To this country the gallant assault on Sumter by the new and untried vessels, exposed to the terrible flanking and raking fire of numerous other forts, is fraught with incalculable benefit. Whatever may be the ulterior object of Government, the substantial advantage has already been secured of knowing exactly what the iron-clads can endure and what remains to be done to render the new system perfect. It was high time that a practical test was instituted, since we are building a more numerous iron-clad fleet than is possessed by all Europe. The nation may thank the commanders of the Monitors for the knowledge gained through their gallantry. With less daring on their part, the Navy Department would yet lack some information necessary to direct the completion of the impregnable fleet now building. At the same time, the spirited attack on Sumter, and the havoc made during half an hour's contest, warns the Confederate leaders that they must keep their numerous batteries fully manned, and that they must not for a moment slacken their vigilance with DUPONT and his Monitors within half a day's sail.

The history of war may be searched in vain for an instance of such costly preparations kept up at such vast expenditure, as Charleston now requires, to ward off the blow from half a dozen small vessels, manned, provisioned and coaled at less cost than an ordinary first-class screw ship.

Yours very respectfully,

NEW-YORK, April 14, 1863. J. ERICSSON.

Amusements.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC—BENEFIT OF MAX MARETZEK.—This evening the opera performance at the Academy of Music is for the benefit of MAX MARETZEK. If ever impresario deserved well at the hands of the music-loving public it is he. Setting aside his indefatigable, indomitable efforts in by-gone seasons, he has within the past few weeks done enough to entitle him to the most generous measure of commendation and support. He has given us a series of lyric entertainments which, in point of genuine merit, have been far superior to anything of the kind offered to long-suffering New-York audiences for years. Without preliminary puff or subsequent ostentation, he has produced two new operas, and given a variety of old ones, with a perfection of ensemble to which we have long been unaccustomed, and his company, while not comprising any artists of overwhelming European celebrity who have outsung the freshness of their voices, has been one of the best for all practical purposes that has ever appeared at the Academy. For all this the public should prove, if not grateful, at least appreciative. What pleasure the fickle monster has received is owing to the enterprise and energy of MAX himself. The obligation is one that should be recognized and repaid, and the most effectual way of doing this will be by leaving no foot of space unoccupied in the Academy to-night. As additional inducements for every opera-goer to be there it should be stated that an opera, almost as good as new here, will be brought out in splendid style and that Madame MEDORI will make her last appearance in it. MEDORI is a great artist, whose wonderful voice and method are a revelation to all who have not enjoyed them. The opera is Verdi's "I Due Foscari," which has not been given in New-York since its production at Castle Garden in 1850. Though an early work of its composer, it possesses some of his most effective and popular characteristics. Besides MEDORI, MAZZOLENI and BELLINI have fine parts in it.

Death of Gen. Welch.

The telegraph informs us of the death, at Clifton Springs yesterday at 11 o'clock, of Commissary-Gen. BENJAMIN WELCH. Gen. WELCH was born at Kingston, Ulster County, and was 45 years of age. He studied law with the late CHARLES A. MANN in Utica, and was subsequently Editor of the Utica Democrat, and of the Buffalo Republican. He was at one time State Treasurer, and for four years Commissary-General of the State. A year ago he accepted a position on Gen. POPE'S Staff. It was in the discharge of his duty in the campaign of last Summer that he contracted the disease which has now proved fatal.

The Death of Lieut.-Col. Kimball.

A meeting of the friends of the late Lieut.-Col. EDGAR A. KIMBALL, of the Ninth New-York Volunteers, (HAWKINS' Zouaves,) was held yesterday morning, at No. 101 Nassau-street. Ex-Alderman EDWARD PELL, of Brooklyn, was called to the chair. The following resolutions, introduced by Col. BETTS, were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we hear with deep and sincere sorrow of the death of Lieut.-Col. KIMBALL, who had endeared himself to his friends by his noble and manly character, to the army by his unsurpassed courage, and to his country by his unwavering patriotism.

Resolved, That this Committee respectfully request the Common Council of the City of New-York to take proper measures to bring to this City the remains of Lieut.-Col. KIMBALL, and give to them suitable interment, and that a Committee of nine be appointed by this meeting to carry into effect this resolution.

The following named gentlemen were chosen the Committee:

Col. Betts, Maj. J. M. Turner, Col. Farnsworth, Allen Conrey, Esq., John Kempston, Esq., Daniel Geary, Esq., Henry Vandewater, Esq., Capt. T. A. Glover, William M. V. Roby, Esq., and Alderman Pell, ex-officio.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the Committee on National Affairs of the Common Council held a meeting, Alderman FARLEY presiding, and Councilman WEBSTER acting as Secretary, at which Ex-Alderman PELL, of Brooklyn, appeared at the head of a Committee of the friends of the deceased, and presented a copy of the foregoing resolutions. After considering the request therein contained, on motion of Councilman JOYCE, a joint Committee of six were authorized to proceed to Suffolk, Va., to procure the body. The Chair appointed Councilmen Joyce, McConnell and Brandon, and Aldermen Ottiwell, Henry and Mitchell, who will proceed on their mission to-day. A Committee appointed by the friends of the deceased to go on the mission will also start to-day.

On the arrival of the remains in this City, they will be received and laid in state at the City Hall, and afterward be buried with military honors, under the auspices of the Committee on National Affairs of the Common Council.

Also, schedules of sizes, with prices attached, and the price per superficial foot, including doors and all necessary fixtures, at which safes of extra size to those mentioned in the schedule will be furnished and put in place. The safes to be delivered when required, and the prices named in the bids must cover all charges, except freight, and the actual traveling expenses in those cases when the safes require to be put in place by the contractor.

All bids must be accompanied by the written guarantee of two responsible persons that the bidder is able to perform the contract, and that he will accept it if awarded to him.

The Department reserves the right to reject any or all the bids if it be considered for its interest to do so, and no bid will be considered that does not conform to the requirements of this advertisement in all respects.

Locks will be furnished by the Department, but must be put on by the contractor for safes.

Bids to be inclosed in a sealed envelope, and indorsed "Proposals for Safes."

ISAIAH ROGERS,
Engineer in charge Treasury Department.

ORDNANCE OFFICE.

WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, March 3, 1863.

PROPOSALS will be received at this office until 4 o'clock P. M., on the 30th of APRIL, 1863, for furnishing six hundred Wrought Iron Beams, for Rails of Chassis for Sea Coast Carriages.

These beams are to be made after the following specifications:

The rail for barbette carriages is a rolled wrought-iron beam, similar in appearance to the "I" shaped beams used in the construction of fire-proof buildings. It is required to be straight and smooth on its surface, and free from flaws, imperfect welds, blisters and cinder streaks. The outer surfaces of the two flanges are planes, parallel to each other and at right angles to the web. The web joins the two flanges along their middle line, leaving them to project equally on each side, and must be without bends or corrugations.

DIMENSION OF BEAMS.

Length of rail	171	inches
Depth between outer surfaces of flanges	15	inches
Width of flanges	5.375	inches
Thickness of flange at outer edge	.75	inch
Thickness of web	.625	inch

These beams will be inspected after the following rules:

They are to be made of good tough, well-worked, clear iron, the absence of which qualities, (generally indicated by roughness of surface, and by checks, and more marked roughness along the edges of the flanges,) as also flaws or bad welds, blisters and streaks of cinder, will cause their rejection.

1st. They are to be of the required dimensions, and square at the ends.

2d. They are to be straight, and free from short bends in the flanges and web.

3d. The outer plane surfaces of the flanges are to be parallel to each other, and in planes perpendicular to that of the web.

4th. The webs are not to be bent or troughed, as would result from resting the rails along their whole lengths on the edges of the flanges while the webs are too hot to bear their weight.

5th. The flanges are to be perfectly equal on each side of the web.

VARIATIONS ALLOWED IN INSPECTING.

In length of rail	.50 inch
In depth of rail	.10 inch
In thickness of web	.05 inch
In warp or wind, in depth of flange at extreme end of rail	.10 inch
Difference in distance between outer edges of plane surfaces of flanges on different sides of web at any cross section of rail	.10 inch
A straight edge of equal length with the rail placed on the outer edge of the flange should not depart from it at any point more than	.15 inch
A plane surface placed on the web should not depart from it any point more than	.10 inch
A plane surface placed on the plane surface of either flange should not depart from it at any point more than	.10 inch
Departure from square in depth of rail	.15 inch

Specimens of the beams, or drawings of them, can be seen at the United States Arsenals at Fort Monroe, Virginia, Bridesburgh and Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and Watertown, Massachusetts.

Bidders will state the number of beams they propose to furnish, the time when they will commence the delivery, which should be as early as possible, and the number they can deliver weekly after commencing the delivery, place where they will make them, and the price per pound for which they will deliver them at the point of vessel or railroad shipment nearest to their works.

No bids will be entertained except from persons actually engaged in the manufacture of iron, evidence of which must accompany the bid.

Each party obtaining a contract will be required to enter into bonds, with proper sureties for its faithful fulfillment; and a transfer of the contract to another party will cause its entire forfeiture.

The right is reserved to reject all proposals if the prices are deemed too high, or if for any cause it is not deemed for the public interest to accept them.

Proposals will be sealed and addressed to "GENERAL J. W. RIPLEY, Chief of Ordnance, Washington, D. C.," and will be indorsed "Proposals for Wrought Iron Beams."

JAS. W. RIPLEY,
Brigadier-General, Chief Ordnance.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

By the arrival at this port of the steamship Arago, we have advices from Charleston Bar to the evening of the 11th, at which time the Ironsides and six Monitors still remained inside the bar, off Morris Island, in the same positions taken by them after the battle of the 7th. Nothing of importance had transpired since the bombardment of Sumter on that day. Gen. Hunter, with his land forces, was to return to Port Royal on the 11th. We receive by the Arago our special correspondence, giving details of events up to the time of her sailing, which will be found elsewhere.

The Arago brings intelligence from Port Royal that the gunboat George Washington, which had been doing picket duty at Scull creek and Pinckney Island, went up Broad River on a reconnoissance on Wednesday last, and when within one mile of Port Royal Ferry ran aground. The E. R. Hale went to her assistance, but the rebels brought a light battery down to the shore and commenced firing, to which the Washington replied; a chance shot struck her in the magazine, causing the destruction of the boat. Two men were killed, two mortally wounded, and eight slightly, all of the Third Rhode Island artillery.

A raid was made into Gloucester County, on April 11, by the troops stationed at Gloucester Point, under the command of Col. A. H. Grimshaw, Fourth Delaware infantry. The expedition was very successful. Some ten thousand dollars' worth of rebel property was burned, and over three hundred head of cattle, sheep and mules were driven into our lines. The infantry, commanded by Lieut.-Col. Carroll Tevis, was in the advance, and made one of the most remarkable marches on record, having gone over a distance of thirty-six miles in ten hours.

THE STATE LEGISLATURE.

In the Senate yesterday, a number of bills were reported favorably, but none of them of any great importance. Bills were passed—incorporating the Soldiers' Rest and the Soldiers' Home, and relative to the Common Schools of New-York. A resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution so as to allow soldiers to vote, was introduced by Mr. Gansen, and laid over under the rule.

In the Assembly, the enacting clause was stricken from the Usury bill. The Excise bill was passed. The Senate's amendments to the Appropriation bill were concurred in. The bill providing for the relief of the indigent families of volunteers was passed; also, the bill amending the act relative to the Courts of the City and County of New-York. The bill to prevent frauds in street-opening was lost.

FROM EUROPE.

The steamship City of New-York, from Liverpool on the 1st, and Queenstown on the 2d inst., arrived at this port yesterday forenoon. The advices are three days later. The British Parliament was not in session, having adjourned over for the Easter Holidays. Lord Palmerston, on the occasion of his installation as Lord-Rector of the Glasgow University, made a speech, in which he adverted briefly to American affairs, defending the policy of "neutrality." He subsequently attended a soirée of the working classes in the City Hall of Glasgow, at which he made a speech, still further defending the course of the Government. The London Herald announces, on indisputable authority, that the rebels will not contract any fresh loan in Europe this year, and probably not until after the close of the war. An account of the seizure of the Peterhoff, furnished by Lloyd's agent at Matamoras, who was a passenger on her, is published. It takes the ground that the seizure was unjustifiable; that it was made by express orders from Admiral Wilkes, and that Capt. Baldwin, of the Vanderbilt, wished to let her go. Affairs in Poland still present a confused and indefinite appearance. It is now asserted that Langiewicz is still a prisoner at Cracow. The Russian Government, in a note addressed to their representative at Paris, is said to have expressed a willingness to improve the condition of Poland, and to bestow additional liberal concessions. The National Assembly of Greece, on the 30th ult., unanimously proclaimed Prince William, of Denmark, as King of Greece, under the title of "George the First." The Liverpool Cotton market was steady and unchanged. Breadstuffs were active, but Provisions were dull. Consols 92½@92⅝ for Money.

GENERAL NEWS.

The steamship Ocean Queen arrived at this port last evening, from Aspinwall on the 6th with California passengers and $217,601 in treasure. She brings intelligence from the United States of Colombia, and from Central and South America. The most important news is the announcement that Carrera, the President of Guatemala, was preparing for another expedition against Salvador, and that there was a probability that all the Central American States would become involved. There is nothing else worthy of special note.

The Harbor Defence Commission had a very interesting meeting yesterday afternoon, Mayor Opdyke presiding. They were addressed by Hon. Mr. Hosmer, of Ohio, on the subject of a great gun, to be operated by compressed air; by Peter Cooper, Esq., in regard to rams of a peculiar design; by Mr. E. A. Stevens, in reference to his floating battery, and by Peter Sweeney, in regard to sub-marine barriers with iron-clad forts flanking them, the barriers to be lowered or raised at will, to permit vessels to pass or to stop them. A large number of communications were received and referred, and two invitations to witness experiments were accepted. Adjourned to 3 o'clock P. M., on next Monday.

The Board of Supervisors met at 3 o'clock P. M. yesterday. An invitation from the Loyal Union League, to attend the mass meeting on next Monday, Mr. Purdy characterized as coming from men who were the descendants of the opponents of the war of 1812, and also of the Revolution. Mr. Ely said it came from men whose principles were dangerous to the country, and with whom he did not wish to associate, doubting their patriotism and their political honesty. He moved to table the invitation. Lost, 4 to 4. Mr. Blunt moved to accept it. Lost by the same vote; affirmative, Messrs. Blunt, Davis, Little and Weissman; negative, Messrs. Ely, Roach, Briggs and Purdy. Aside from this, the business transacted had no point of interest for the general reader. The Board adjourned to 3 o'clock P. M. on next Tuesday.

Rev. A. A. Willits delivered at the Brooklyn Academy of Music, last evening, a very able and stirring address upon the rebellion and the way to meet it. The building was crowded to overflowing.

The Toronto Globe, of Monday, says Mr. Wm. Cornell Jewett, of Colorado Territory, U. S., a friend of the South, who desires to bring about European intervention in the interests of peace, is in Quebec, designing to reach the seaboard by way of Rivier Du Loup and cross the Atlantic.

Stocks were generally higher yesterday, with a large demand for Erie shares at advancing prices. Gold Coin fell off 2 ℘ cent., closing dull at 154¾ ℘ cent.

Business was generally less active yesterday. Breadstuffs and Provisions were less freely purchased at partially reduced prices. Sugars, Molasses, Hay, Rice, Tallow and Petroleum were in fair request. Cotton was sparingly dealt in and was rather heavy. Whisky, Rio Coffee, Hops, Lime, Fish and Chemicals were moderately inquired for. The public sales of Dry Goods were pretty well attended, and desirable fabrics brought fair prices. The freight market was inactive.

The Live Stock Markets are sufficiently supplied with animals this week, though the numbers are 6,500 less than last week. With the approach of warm weather and fresh vegetables, a fair run of shad and a good supply of eggs. Meats are at a discount....Beeves foot up 5,002 for the week, viz.: 50 at Bergen, 35 at Robinson-street Market, 150 sent direct to butchers, 343 sold in Sixth-street, and 4,424 at Allerton's, in Forty-fourth-street. Sales were rather slow, and prices ½c. lower than last week, until near the close of the market, when they dropped off ½c. more. The united wants of shippers, who took near 800 head, and butchers, finally used up all the cattle, prices ranging from 9c. to 11½c., with a very few having a wider range. The cattle were mostly of good quality, with no very mean nor extra fat animals. The average of all sales was about 10¼c......Sheep are scarcer and ½c. higher. Receipts, 4,938 for the week, and selling at 9½c.@9¾c. ℘ lb., live weight. A few choice lots have brought 10c.; stock mostly sold....Live Hogs sell well if they are heavy and fat, abounding in lard, and poorly if light and thin. A lot of common hogs have been on sale a week without buyers, though offered at 4½c.@4¾c. Prime heavy corn-fed hogs are selling at 5⅝c., light hogs 5c.@5¼c., and still-fed, 4¾c.@5¼c.

The Failure at Charleston in Its Bearings Abroad.

The unsuccessful attack upon Charleston undoubtedly will be hailed with great satisfaction by the ruling classes of England as a serious damage to the National cause. This will be a mistake. It is no damage in a positive sense, for little or no actual loss has been sustained. We have only failed to gain; and are simply as we were before, just as was the case with England in her Russian war, after the unsuccessful attack upon the Sebastopol forts by Admiral Lyons, and the unsuccessful demonstration upon Sweaborg by Admiral Napier.

But this failure has a practical bearing, upon which the English Government will have no reason to congratulate itself. We mean the virtual demonstration of the fact that any American harbor may be put in such a state of defence as to absolutely defy the combined fleets of Europe. It has been a problem whether iron-mailed vessels can outmatch forts. We consider it to be now proved that they cannot, if the forts have proper subaqueous outworks for the purpose of obstruction and destruction. The Monitors are the most effective iron-mailed vessels that have been built; and what they failed to do, it is very certain that any European vessels would fail to do. What has been done in Charleston may, on occasion, be done in any other American harbor; and, in fact, more easily than there, for the principal forts of almost every other harbor are newer and stronger. Therefore, it is practically demonstrated that in case of foreign war, we can make cities on the seaboard perfectly secure from damage.

This is a fact of the highest moment. Were we to have a war with England, it would be almost entirely defensive, save in two particulars: we should invade Canada, and should launch hundreds of privateers against British commerce on the high seas. Our defensive invincibility on the seaboard established, as it now is by the developments at Charleston, there is left no room for doubt but that England would get the worst of it in the struggle.

As for Canada, it is admitted that it cannot protect itself. The population of all the British Provinces is but about three millions, extending over a breadth of more than a thousand miles. They are unaccustomed to the use of arms, and have little or no military spirit, as the ridiculous failure of the volunteer movement, in every Province, abundantly shows. A detachment of seventy thousand of our veterans might march through the whole heart of the country without serious impediment. The mother country would be powerless to prevent it. Lord Palmerston, in his speech on the defence of Canada, at the time of the Trent difficulty, avowed plainly that the twelve thousand sent to that colony was the most that could possibly be spared. The British army is one of the smallest of Europe, and what there is of it is mainly engrossed in the protection of possessions the other side of the globe. Whatever the pressure, it cannot be materially enlarged. The difficulty which England had in supplying her rank and file in the Crimea, and which prompted her to try foreign enlistments at the risk even of a war with the United States, is fresh in the memory of all. From all time she has felt that difficulty. She hired Hessians to fight us in the Revolution, and her wars with Bonaparte were carried on mainly through the soldiers of subsidized allies. She has not the resources the Continental nations have in their systems of conscription, which enable them to increase their standing armies, on short notice, to any required figures. She cannot enlist troops in other lands, as every European nation now has its laws against foreign enlistments. The result of all is that there is no Power on earth, of any pretension, that is weaker, in a military sense, than England; and that it would be utterly impossible for her to hold Canada against an invasion from our Northern States.

England could no better protect her commerce. There is probably full six hundred millions worth of British merchandise now afloat. We have the swiftest clipper ships ever known, and a multitude of them; all of which would require but a trifling operation to be converted into the most effective privateers the world ever saw. The rebel privateers Alabama and Florida, furnished by England, have in their brief career despoiled American commerce to the extent of at least one hundred millions. This furnishes excellent data for reckoning the length of time which British commerce could hold out against a hundred equally effective vessels. It can be safely put down that within six months of the commencement of a war with England, every commercial keel of that nation would be swept from the two oceans.

Therefore, if we should be forced into a war with England, which we do not anticipate—for she well understands her interests—all the prime elements would be in our favor. What she needs to protect—namely, her colonies and her commerce—she could not protect. What we need to protect—namely, our seaboard cities—we now know that we can protect. As to outlying provinces, we have none. As to our commerce, that is already suffering about as much as it can suffer, because of the Anglo-rebel privateers, all of which injury works corresponding benefit to English commerce. In the present condition of things, England must lose immensely by war; we comparatively nothing.

England could give no material aid to the rebels she is not now giving. She could not send troops to the Confederacy, for she neither has them nor can get them. She could not break our blockade to any serious extent, for our blockading vessels could be protected by our iron-clads, of which we already have five to England's one, and can multiply in the same proportion. She can lend money, to be sure, and supply credit; but that she is doing already, as the lately negotiated Confederate loan attests. There is, positively, no particular in which war with England would materially help the rebels, save in the diversion of sixty or seventy thousand soldiers which would be employed in seizing Canada. But this could easily be made up by a fresh levy.

In our judgment, when the ruling classes of England calmly examine this Charleston affair, as demonstrating the complete defensibility of American harbors against any force that may assail them, and shall calmly estimate the bearings of this demonstration upon a war between England and the United States, they will find in it precious little matter for rejoicing. It must make them wiser, and if not sadder, at least more cautious.

Affairs in Mexico.

The news from Mexico which we published yesterday, was not of that decided character which the public had reason to expect. The dates from Puebla, the seat of war, are down to the 23d ult.

It appears that the French have made a show of occupying several strategic points near the City of Puebla, but whether for the purpose of laying regular siege, or attempting to carry that stronghold by storm, the accounts are by no means clear. There is a doubt expressed, we find, whether an attempt will be made to capture the city at all. There certainly is no evidence of any great energy or determination, even in the French accounts, on the part of Gen. Forey. The general statements are that in several important skirmishes the French came out worsted. These events, taken in connection with the fact that numbers of the French soldiers are constantly deserting, indicates anything but a happy state of affairs among the invaders.

This matter of desertion in the invading force is at once curious and significant. We learn that not only do the soldiers of the Grand Army desert in large numbers, but they glory in it. These deserters make friendly addresses to Juarez, the President of the Mexican Republic, and allow these addresses to go forth to the world with their names signed in full. Such a thing was never known before in the history of French wars. It could not have been in the army of the first Napoleon, and the fact that it now occurs in Mexico, is proof positive that the wantonness of the invasion of that country has seriously impaired the morale of the French army; also, that the tenure by which Louis Napoleon holds the French soldier becomes weak, if not entirely dissolved, when he gets beyond the Imperial power.

We notice that five thousand men recently landed from French ships, at Vera Cruz. This arrival completes the reinforcements of ten thousand men, so long expected. The French force now en route from Vera Cruz and the vicinity of Puebla, must amount to between thirty and thirty-five thousand men. Unless Gen. Forey has orders from his Government to withdraw, we see not how he can much longer avoid a decisive battle. The Mexicans, according to all accounts, have a large and well-appointed army, full of determination, courage and hope.

Gen. Ortega's address to the French army has these sentences;

> "Soldiers! when you have got possession of one only of our forts, marching over heaps of dead bodies and torrents of blood, turn your eyes around, and you will see that this sanguinary struggle is hardly begun, and that the rear-guard of our army is composed of thousands of centres of population, who await you, sword in hand, over an extent of territory larger than all Europe. Frenchmen! if you come as friends, we will put out our hands and offer you our hospitality; if as enemies, there is in the breast of the least of our soldiers sufficient pride and sufficient hate to act in such a manner that our glory shall be eternal, and also your opprobrium."

The French will probably say this is the sublimity of impudence, but the impartial reader must accord to it the sublimity of patriotism and courage, with a dash of sarcasm that completely turns the tables on the invaders, in their professions that they enter Mexico as friends.

A Mistake.—Lord Palmerston says that each of the "contending parties in America sue us (England) like rivals who sue a fair damsel—each party wanting us to take up his cause, and each feeling some little stinging resentment on account of that neutrality which both of them in some degree characterize as unfriendliness."

Lord Palmerston is very greatly mistaken. When have we ever asked England's aid? Who has ever asked it? Who would ever accept it? When did we ever regard her as a "fair damsel?" When can we ever cease to regard her as something quite other than a "fair damsel?" The published diplomatic correspondence between our Government and his shows not a word that would indicate a desire for their help, but every sentence of it shows the contrary. No man in any position, responsible or irresponsible, has ever asked it; no newspaper has ever asked it. All we demand of her and every other foreign nation is that they keep their hands off; and we do not sue for this as rivals sue to a fair damsel, but we warn her off with the mailed hand.

The Monitors.—The result of the late battle in Charleston harbor has abated not a whit of Capt. Ericsson's faith in the Monitors, as will be seen by his letter, which we publish this morning. He says that in every particular the new fighting machines worked precisely as intended, and that no change of plan is called for, though he admits that the pilot-house and the turret may have to be strengthened by additional iron-plating, which is very easily accomplished. The armor is applied to keep out hostile shot, and thus far, he says, we have fully succeeded.

The question is one of very great interest and importance, and within the last few days the discussion upon it has been warmly reopened in naval and scientific circles. The test in Charleston harbor was a severe one, as regards the Monitor armor versus heavy artillery; and if the modifying element of subaqueous obstructions had not entered into the contest, the result, in a military point of view, might have been very different. The general public, of course, are clamorous only for immediate successful results; and so many promises of these have always been held out from the Monitors, when once they got into action, that it is no wonder, as things stand, that there should be a temporary, though perhaps thoughtless and groundless, expression of disappointment. It is certain that all the wooden navies that ride the waters of the globe could not penetrate into Charleston harbor; and the fact that seven Monitors, at their first essay, failed, under the circumstances, to do so, detracts not an iota from their already demonstrated great merits. As Capt. Ericsson says, the practical test which has been instituted as to what the new iron-clads can endure, and what remains to be done to make them perfect, is in itself, in its bearings upon the great iron fleet we are now building, a very substantial advantage.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

OUR SPECIAL WASHINGTON DISPATCHES.

Washington, Tuesday, April 14.

THE NEWS FROM MEXICO.

The Mexican Minister did not receive his mail to-day, brought by the last steamer, and we are yet without an authoritative contradiction of the French fables, put in circulation from Vera Cruz, of their military successes. It is enough for to-night to say, that Señor Romero confidently waits for intelligence from his Government, and has faith that the French war of conquest will yet be turned into a war of defeat.

PAYING GEN. HOOKER'S ARMY.

The payment of the troops in Gen. Hooker's army continues. To-day and yesterday large sums went down. It was a great undertaking for Secretary Chase to issue the eight millions needed for the arrears due up to Feb. 26, but he has almost accomplished it.

ARREARS OF PAY, ETC.

Before leaving the city Gov. Curtin had an interview with Second Auditor French, to induce a more speedy payment to sick and disabled soldiers of Pennsylvania, and the arrears of pay, bounties and provisions due to the families. The Governor represented that in consequence of the already great delay in the settlement of these accounts very many families all over Pennsylvania were suffering, and showed how under the present system the soldiers and their representatives were inevitably the victims of fraudulent claim agents.

REBEL PROPERTY WITHIN OUR LINES.

Public attention here has again been called to the necessity of confiscating rebel property within our lines. A few days since a refugee citizen of Washington came from Richmond, sold two fine brick houses on J-street for gold, pocketed the cash, and comfortably returned to Richmond. Similar histories are told of rebel audacity in secesh circles here.

ASSESSORS UNDER THE TAX LAW.

Several Senators and Representatives from the New-England States are here, upon the special business of effecting a modification of the ill-advised system of compensating Assessors under the Tax law. A portion of their fees is a per centage on collections above a certain amount. The inducement to assess high is so practically mischievous that the principle of compensation in this respect must be altered.

CONVALESCENTS.

Last night 266 convalescents, many of whom were deserters, were sent to Cincinnati for the Ninth Army Corps.

DESERTERS.

The list of deserters from the whole army, reported under the President's proclamation, is already thirty-two feet long.

MULES.

Contracts were made yesterday with Mr. Church for 1,000 mules, at $110, and with Hursch and Moore for $199.

DISPATCHES TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, Tuesday, April 14.

REVENUE DECISION.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenues has made the following decision:

The sixth section of the Act of March 3, provides on any policy of insurance or other instrument, by whatever name the same shall be called, by which insurance shall be made or renewed upon property of any description, whether against perils by sea or by fire or by other peril of any kind, made by any company or its agents, or by any other company or person, in which the premium or assessment shall not exceed $10, a stamp duty of 10 cents.

The Commissioner construes the phrase "premium or assessment" here used to include all payments for insurance whether on money or the premium on deposit notes.

THE D'UTASSY COURT-MARTIAL.

The Court-martial in the case of Col. D'Utassy convened to-day. The charges were twenty-one in number, but some of them were abandoned. They mostly refer to the alleged fraudulent acts on his part against the Government and his subordinates. He pleads innocence of all intended fraud, but acknowledges, it is said, the acts specified in some of the charges.

THE PRACTICE-SHIP AT NEWPORT.

It appears, from information received at the Navy Department, that the extent of the sickness among the Midshipmen on board the practice-ship Constitution, at Newport has been much exaggerated. The few patients are to be landed, and placed in the hospital at the Academy.

CAPTURES BY THE NAVY.

The Navy Department has received official information of the following captures:

The D. Sargent, from Galveston, bound to Honduras, with 51 bales of cotton, captured by the United States gunboat Kittaning, off Galveston Bar.

The J. M. Chapman was captured on the 15th of March by the boats of the United States ship Cyane, in the harbor of San Francisco, under circumstances showing that she was disguised to prey upon our commerce.

The sloop Ranger, of Clay's Landing, Suwanee River, by the Fort Henry's armed boats, off Chrystal River. Her cargo consisted of salt, dry goods, gunpowder, &c.

Also, the schooner Anna, of Nassau, while endeavoring to evade the blockade off the mouth of the Suwanee River. She had an assorted cargo.

Accident on the New-York Central Railroad.

TWELVE PASSENGERS INJURED.

Albany, Tuesday, April 14.

An accident occurred to the Central Railroad train due here at 2:30 this afternoon.

While coming on the down grade, just west of the Dudley Observatory, two or three passenger cars were thrown off the track, owing to the expansion of the rails.

Twelve passengers were injured, none fatally. Their names are as follows:

S. D. Bright, of Williamstown, Oswego County—head cut—face bruised.

Hamlet Dixon, volunteer—nose cut, knee bruised.

Chas. E. Merrill, Newcastle, Maine—temple cut.

Lyman Mudge, New-York—head slightly bruised.

William P. Williams, Utica—cut over the eye.

R. Town, Kingstown, C. W.—head cut.

One gentleman, name unknown—injury slight.

Mrs. Olive Penfield, of Yorkville, Oneida County; Mrs. Rosella Beauvois, of Utica; Mrs. Susan Avery, of Cornwall Bridge, Conn., and one lady, name unknown, were slightly injured.

From San Francisco.

San Francisco, Tuesday, April 14.

The steamer Golden Age sailed to-day, with 125 passengers, for New-York. She also takes out $596,000 in treasure for England, and $195,000 for New-York.

San Francisco, Tuesday, April 14.

Sailed, ship Messenger for New-York, with a miscellaneous cargo of California produce.

The Legislature has passed a law authorizing the California Volunteers, serving in Utah and New-Mexico, to vote for State officers at the general election.

There was a large mass meeting last evening to welcome home Ex-Congressman Phelps. He was received with universal enthusiasm.

The Union Committee have called a Convention, to assemble at Sacramento on the 17th of June, to nominate candidates for Supreme Court Judges, three members of Congress, and State officers, who, according to the amended Constitution, will hereafter hold office four years, except Judges, who hold ten years.

The Union Democratic party is taking steps to call a Convention, to nominate a State ticket.

Gen. Burnside's Recent Order.

Indianapolis, Ind., Tuesday, April 14.

Gen. Burnside's order relative to sending domestic traitors beyond the National lines, and protection to Union men, is well received in Indianapolis, as it confirms the previous action of Gen. Carrington.

A Union man, driven from home, because accused of reporting a K. G. C. to the commander of the district, was sent back to-day with officers instructed to rely on civil authorities, but if not protected, the offenders to be dealt with under the order.

Charter Election in Albany.

Albany, Tuesday, April 14.

The Charter election resulted in the success of the Democratic ticket by 2,600 majority. The Democrats carry nine of the ten Wards on Aldermen and eight on Supervisors.

Elections in New-Jersey.

IN TRENTON.

Trenton, N. J., Tuesday, April 14.

F. S. Mills, Democrat, was elected Mayor of this city yesterday by 378 majority.

The whole Democratic city ticket was also elected by an average majority of nearly 400.

The Democrats carry five out of the six wards in the city, and elect all the ward officers.

IN LAMBERTVILLE.

The whole Democratic ticket was elected at Lambertville yesterday, without opposition.

IN RAHWAY.

Rahway, Tuesday, April 14.

Thomas J. Lee, Union, was elected Mayor of Rahway yesterday, by 100 majority. The whole Union city ticket was elected by a majority of about 45

MONETARY AFFAIRS.

Tuesday, April 14—P. M.

The speculators for the rise in Gold Coin, who pushed up the price yesterday on the Street to 158¾ ℘ cent. on the Charleston news, while actual holders were selling in the Stock Exchange Board at 157@157½ ℘ cent., encountered the same difficulty to-day, as for several packets past, in the relatively lower rates of Exchange. Bankers who have been holding Gold to cover their engagements abroad turn sellers on the market soon as as they find that they can pick up Bills on England or the Continent at rates 1@2 ℘ cent. lower than a remittance in Gold. The pressure of such Bills is not very marked, but in the absence of a good trade demand from the Importers, the rates yield on a comparatively moderate supply. The difficulty of carrying Gold Coin at par while the premium upon it, to be advanced by the buyer in cash, is 55@60 ℘ cent., is increased by this condition of the Foreign Exchanges, even in the absence of a Restraining Law by the Legislature against Bank loans upon Gold. Most of the Banks have already given up the business of advancing Money upon Gold on any terms. Nearly all of them feel the public duty of doing so, but unless the Restraining Bill becomes a law, a few concerns, ambitious of making Money by this or any other traffic, not absolutely outlawed, will continue to make advances at par, and even at a premium, if their Managers think they can only escape the penalties of the law of Congress and the diligence of the United States Assessor and Tax Collector of their Ward. Four or five years ago forty-five or forty-eight of the fifty Banks in the Clearing-house Association informally agreed, as a matter of public policy and of interest to themselves, to discontinue the allowance of interest on Deposits and Country Bank Balances. The movement would have been made unanimous but for one or two Bank Managers who saw the way open to take away the accounts of their older and more respectable neighbors, by holding out the inducement of 4@5 ℘ cent. interest. The practice was given up by nine-tenths of the Banks, nevertheless, at the sacrifice of many of their valuable Country Bank accounts, which were transferred, on the solicitation of the small minority who offered interest upon them. The consequence is now felt upon the public credit, and may ultimately tell upon the safety of such accounts themselves, in the fact that these Deposits and Country Bank balances have been actively employed, for some months, in carrying on or facilitating speculations in Gold or its equivalent in Custom-house Notes. Nor is this to be wondered at. A Bank which will pay 4 or 5 ℘ cent. on heavy balances, while its neighbors refuse all interest upon Deposits, and Money is barely worth 5 ℘ cent. in the open market, would not, of course, scruple to speculate for itself or its Directors, or lend the Money of its dealers to any Gold ring in Wall or William-street ambitious of carrying up the premium.

We refer to these circumstances in connection with our City Banks, that the Legislature may understand that while nearly all of them are disposed to conform to the right, and already refuse facilities to the speculation in Gold, there is nothing short of a Restraining Law that will render the practice uniform and compel a respectful deference to the public opinion on the subject where it is now disregarded.

The price of Gold Coin fell off 2 ℘ cent. to-day, and the price of Erie shares advanced 2 ℘ cent. on the Stock Exchange. The general Share market was higher in the Afternoon, with a good demand for Erie Common and Michigan Southern of both classes. The advance is 4 ℘ cent. on the Guaranteed Stock since yesterday. Hudson was firm and Harlem less excited and fluctuating than for a week or ten days past. A good part of yesterday's rise on Cumberland Coal was lost at the Second Board; sales as low as 19 ℘ cent., but subsequently at 19¾ ℘ cent. At 4 o'clock the general market left off about as follows, as compared with last night. The speculation in Gold quite dull.

The price for Money continues cheap, and the supply easy to the Brokers. The conversions of United States Currency into the New Loan of 1882 are again active to-day at the Sub-Treasury, and with the Loan Agent and his correspondents. The Customs are also larger than yesterday. $192,000. The Treasury Department and its officers and employes in this City are certainly to be congratulated on the new building; its commodious proportions, and very convenient arrangements, as compared with the late Treasury Office in Wall-street.

The Annual Election for Directors of the Long Island Railroad Company took place to-day, at the office of the Company at Hunter's Point, and resulted in the election of an entire new Board of Directors. The retiring Board presented their report, which did not seem to be satisfactory to the Stockholders; it was referred to a committee for examination, with instructions to report upon the same to a future meeting. A very large amount of Stock was voted upon (32,122 shares) and the following named gentlemen were unanimously elected Directors:

Oliver Charlick, Wm. F. Havemeyer, Albert Havemeyer, John M. Freeman, Jas. M. Waterbury, John P. Yelverton, Charles Christmas, of New-York; Charles Camblos, E. N. Maitland, A. Hart, Chas. B. Wainwright, of Philadelphia; Stephen Tabor, D. R. Floyd Jones, of Long Island.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board, Oliver Charlick, Esq., was unanimously elected President for the ensuing year.

The week's exports of Domestic Produce and Miscellaneous Goods, (exclusive of specie,) from the port of New-York, amounted in value to $2,525,094, against $2,458,539 same week last year, and $2,642,772 the corresponding week of 1861.

The aggregate of the Philadelphia Banks show the following changes in the last weekly statement as compared with those of the previous week:

Decrease of loans	$1,257,118
Increase of specie	3,990
Increase of deposits	585,968
Decrease of circulation	77,728
Increase of United States notes	1,428,808

Charity Sparring Exhibition.

Mr. John Morrissey, whose exhibition for the benefit of a bereaved family, several months since, realized some $1,600, has, with other prominent admirers of the manly art of self-defence, instituted a charity sparring exhibition for the relief of the suffering poor of Ireland. Some of the best professionals in the country have volunteered their services for the furtherance of the worthy object, a list of whom was given in a previous notice. The expenses of the affair will be insignificant, and doubtless in the competent hands of Mr. Morrissey, the pecuniary result will be most gratifying. The affair will take place to-morrow night at Hoym's Theatre, in the Bowery, and every possible arrangement has been made to secure perfect quiet and decorum. The exhibition will close by a friendly match between those distinguished proficients in the art, Messrs. John Morrissey and McCool, which of itself will be worth the price of admission.

The Indians are Going.—They have notified Barnum that this is the last day they can stay with him. The showman is in grief, but they are inexorable. Their faces are Westward, and hence they will go. So all who would see them must do it to-day. Who will fail? Another opportunity to see the representatives of the large Western tribes of Indians may never occur. See them, then, to-day. To please all, dramatic performances at 3 and 7½ P. M. Other curiosities at all hours.

Premature Loss of the Hair, which is so common now-a-days, may be entirely prevented by the use of BURNETT'S COCOAINE. It has been used in thousands of cases where the hair was coming out in handfuls, and has never failed to arrest its decay, and to promote a healthy and vigorous growth. It is at the same time unrivaled as a dressing for the hair. A single application will render it soft and glossy for several days. Prepared by JOSEPH BURNETT & CO., Boston.

The First Inquiry to Make in Purchasing a Sewing Machine for family use is, whether it will embroider perfectly, as well as sew perfectly. If it will not, however useful for shirt-making, it is not the machine for a family. GROVER & BAKER'S celebrated Sewing Machine, No. 495 Broadway, only equals the excellence and strength of its stitching by the elegance and beauty of its embroidery. These are the only Sewing Machines which embroider.

DEAFNESS
NOISES IN THE HEAD,
Diseases of the Eye, Ear & Throat,
CATARRH CURED
BY
Dr. VON EISENBERG.

From the Journal of Commerce.

Exciting News for the Deaf.—An instrument called Dr. Von Eisenberg's Air Passage Expander and Regulator, a gigantic machine, weighing nearly five hundred pounds, about five feet in height, a most wonderful apparatus for restoring sight and hearing, has just arrived for Dr. Von Eisenberg, the celebrated Oculist and Aurist, and will be on exhibition at the Doctor's office, No. 816 Broadway, for a few days previous to its use. The instrument is constructed decidedly on the most scientific principles. To give a detailed description would require a greater space than we can now spare. Our Oculist and Aurist seems to do everything in the line of his profession on a gigantic scale. The new instrument for restoring hearing to the deaf and sight to the blind is so constructed that it cannot fail to open the most obstructed air passages. His new consulting rooms, No. 816 Broadway, are correspondingly magnificent, and his practice as Aurist and Oculist large and eminently successful.

From the New-York Evening Express, Feb. 14, 1863.

Sensation Among the Deaf.—The unrivaled skill of Dr. Von Eisenberg, the far-famed Oculist and Aurist, of No. 816 Broadway, has made quite a sensation among the Deaf and Blind by his wonderful cures, which attract the Deaf, Blind and those suffering from Chronic Catarrh, from all parts of the Union to his office. The number of his certificates of really wonderful cures swells daily. For the benefit of sufferers, we submit the following, which requires no comment:

New-York, Feb. 9, 1863.

I have been completely deaf in one ear, and partially so in the other, for above seventeen years, with a disagreeable discharge from both ears, combined with continual rumbling noise in the head, for which I have been treated by a most eminent practitioner in the City without the slightest relief.

I consulted Dr. Von Eisenberg, but I must candidly say that I had no faith in his success when I did so. It is, therefore, due to Dr. Von Eisenberg to acknowledge that I am entirely cured; also, that he displayed that skill and knowledge which have procured for him such an unrivaled reputation. As I have had an opportunity of comparing his mode of treatment with that of others, I can truly state that it is not only superior, but the principles which direct his mode of restoring the hearing are, in my opinion, certain.

JOHN TAYLOR,
No. 13 Livingston-st., Brooklyn.

New-York, July 19, 1862.

This certifies that my mother has been for some time afflicted with partial deafness, suffering from pain, and rumbling noises in the head, together with other indications of a total loss of hearing. Dr. Von Eisenberg removed from her ears a great quantity of matter, together with coagulated blood, relieving her instantaneously, and all without pain. It is with grateful thanks that I give this testimony to his skill.

CARROLL J. POST, No. 28 South-st.

No. 188 Mercer-st., New-York.

J. E. Von Eisenberg, M. D.—Dear Doctor: I have been afflicted with total deafness, and was induced to pay you a visit. No one can imagine my delight when, after one operation, my hearing was suddenly, and without pain, restored to me, for which I feel very grateful. After being totally deaf—almost shut out from the pleasure of using so necessary a sense—to have it returned, and to hear so distinctly, reflects great credit on you for the immense amount of skill you possess. I beg to thank you for what I can so truly appreciate. I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

EDWARD TEMPLE HARRISON.

New-York, Nov. 6, 1862.

Dr. Von Eisenberg—Dear Sir: Before taking leave of you, after your most successful operation on my ear, allow me to express my sincere thanks that, by your scientific surgical performance, I am enabled to hear distinctly, and enjoy a pleasure of which I have long been deprived—over a year. May you be rewarded by being enabled to perform many similar, to benefit other sufferers, and to your own emolument.

Allow me to present my kindest regards, and assure you of my grateful remembrance. Respectfully,

A. McDONALD REYNOLDS,
Captain Marines, United States.

CHRONIC CATARRH CURED.
READ
New-York, March 20, 1863.

"This is to certify, that I have suffered from very severe CHRONIC CATARRH, with a dull heaviness in the head. I felt my nose completely stopped up accompanied by continual soreness of the throat, the chills stealing over me with occasional hot flushes, a great tightness of the chest and pain, so much so, that every one thought it was consumption. Having heard of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I consulted him with but little hope of a cure. I am now happy to be enabled to add my testimonial to the great number already in the Doctor's possession, as to his scientific and successful mode of treatment, as he has shown in my case that skill and knowledge which have procured for him so great a reputation. I am so entirely restored to perfect health that I do most sincerely recommend all sufferers from CHRONIC CATARRH and SORE THROAT to apply at once to Dr. Von Eisenberg with a certainty of being cured."

ASTOUNDING CURES MADE BY HYATT'S AB LIFE BALSAM.

HYATT'S "AB" DOUBLE-STRENGTH LIFE BALSAM is a most certain curative for Rheumatism of the most painful forms. It is equally certain to cure Scrofula, old Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Liver and Kidney Complaints, Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from great impurity of the blood.

HYATT'S LIFE BALSAM cured Miss Bowers, corner of 131st-st. and 4th-av., of a terrible case of Salt Rheum, Erysipelas and Pimples, which had entirely destroyed her hair, and so disfigured her that she could not appear in public for years. She has not a scar left, and her hair is completely restored.

HYATT'S LIFE BALSAM cured Mr. B. Rice, No. 32 Grove-st. and No. 21 Clinton Market, of inflammatory rheumatism and gout, after he had been crippled for years.

HYATT'S LIFE BALSAM cured Mr. H. B. Holly, residence No. 132 Monroe-st., office No. 32 Chambers-st., of a terrible ulcer, after he had been treated in the Broadway Hospital six months, and thought to be incurable.

HYATT'S LIFE BALSAM cured H. K. Chapman, belonging to Fourth Regiment, New-York Volunteers, of severe rheumatism of three years' duration, after all other remedies had failed.

HYATT'S LIFE BALSAM cured Willet Jarvis, Esq., No. 277 Hicks-st., Brooklyn, of deep and terrible ulcers on the leg, after his physician had decided that amputation was necessary to save his life.

HYATT'S LIFE BALSAM is curing thousands of cases of these and kindred diseases yearly. It will cure any case that can be cured by medicine. It does not contain a particle of mercury

The "AB" DOUBLE STRENGTH LIFE BALSAM is sold only at No. 246 Grand-st. $1 per bottle, six for $5 25. Sent everywhere by express.

HOW STRANGE AND ABSURD! THAT A free people can be made to believe that a Constitution that was specially and only formed to protect the rights of its citizens, can be so perverted as to give the right to enslave a portion of them at the will of the majority, or, still worse, by the force of power. This superlatively ridiculous and wicked assumption, which concedes all that is claimed by the rebels, will be the subject of a lecture at the Church of the Puritans, on Union-square, on WEDNESDAY EVENING, April 15.

UNION.

MASS ASSEMBLAGE
OF LOYAL CITIZENS,
AT MADISON-SQUARE,
on MONDAY, APRIL 20, at 4 o'clock,
TO CELEBRATE
the anniversary of the first
"GREAT UPRISING"
of the people of the Loyal States in response to the call of
THE PRESIDENT
for Volunteer Soldiers to support the Government and to quell rebellion.
THE COMMEMORATION of that auspicious event will call forth an expression of the LOYAL SENTIMENT
of the whole country.
DEPUTATIONS
have already been appointed from DISTANT STATES,
to unite in this grand movement of PATRIOTISM.

Every citizen, without regard to station or party, who desires to maintain the honor of the country and to preserve the Union and the Constitution, is invited to take part in this

DEMONSTRATION OF LOYAL DUTY.

Extensive stages will be erected for the

DISTINGUISHED ORATORS

who will address the assemblage.

Tickets and badges will be issued by the Committee for admission to the stages. Seats will be reserved for ladies.

All Loyal Leagues, all Societies and Associations of loyal men, are invited to coöperate in the arrangements, and to take part in the proceedings of this

GREAT OVATION

to our country, its honor, its independence and its

FLAG.

Full particulars of the arrangements will be published hereafter.

COMMITTEE OF ARRANGEMENTS:
JAMES WADSWORTH,
BENJ. W. BONNEY,
JAMES T. BRADY,
LEONARD W. JEROME,
WALDO HUTCHINS,
NEHEMIAH KNIGHT.

Loyal League of Union Citizens of the United States, New-York, April 14, 1863.

MASS MEETING

To commemorate the uprising of the people at the call of the President on the outbreak of the rebellion.

The League will celebrate the anniversary on MONDAY, April 20, at Madison-square, at 4 o'clock P. M.

Arrangements are in active progress to render this an imposing ceremony for the display of the loyal feelings of the whole country. Deputations are expected from many cities and States, to unite with the people of New-York in the proposed movement.

Lieut.-Gen. Winfield Scott will preside at the meeting, and witness its proceedings from the balcony of his residence, the Fifth-avenue Hotel, opposite the principal stage to be erected as a forum for the speakers.

The Committee, with the view to enlist the active coöperation of all the counties in this State, and in the hope of stimulating other loyal States to unite in the patriotic duty, have adopted the following preamble and resolution:

Whereas, This Loyal League of Union Citizens was organized on the 6th and inaugurated on the 14th of March, to give a popular character to the movement for uniting all loyal citizens in a pledge of unconditional support of the Government, in all its constitutional efforts to suppress the rebellion, and an uncompromising opposition to treason in whatever form it appears, and has exerted its influence in developing the loyal feelings and sentiments of the people in this City and throughout the country; and

Whereas, in the judgment of the Committee, it has now become an imperative duty to cultivate and extend this influence wherever it can strengthen the bonds of our union, encourage the confidence of our people, and thereby add new vigor to the councils of the Government, in the prosecution of the contest now waged with open enemies at home and covert foes abroad; therefore,

Resolved, That the Mass Assemblage to be held, on the 20th inst., be requested to appoint a Committee of twenty-five members of the League, authorized to call a Mass Assemblage of the loyal citizens of the State of New-York, to be held at Utica, in the County of Oneida, on WEDNESDAY, the 27th day of May next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon; and that said Committee invite the coöperation of delegates from all Loyal Leagues organized in the cities and counties of this State.

By order of the Committee of Arrangements,
JAMES WADSWORTH, Chairman,
BENJ. W. BONNEY,
JAMES T. BRADY,
LEONARD W. JEROME,
WALDO HUTCHINS,
NEHEMIAH KNIGHT,
P. M. WETMORE, Secretary.

"IN HOC VINCES."
ROMAINE'S
CRIMEAN BITTERS.
ORIGIN—USED IN UNITED STATES HOSPITALS.

This remarkable preparation was used to some extent, in a modified form, in French Army Hospitals during the late Crimean War, when its efficacy was demonstrated, not only as a preventive of several diseases incident to camp life, but as an efficient Tonic and Alterative.

With the intelligent, it will be conceded that in no part of the world have physiological science and the medical art attained to greater eminence than in France; hence the medical preparations of her thoroughly educated physicians are entitled to, and universally receive much confidence. Notwithstanding testimonials of an undoubted character were furnished us that it had been subjected to severe tests, to a considerable degree, in private practice, we deemed it prudent, before its general introduction to the American public, to test it by the same ordeals. But first it was submitted to examination as well as combination, to two of our most distinguished analytical chemists, viz.: Drs. James R. Chilton and Julius G. Pohle, both long and well-known residents of New-York, whose joint certificate is annexed, which, at a glance, will assure the most skeptical of its great medicinal virtues.

The next step was to introduce it to the Assistant Surgeon of the United States Hospital in Newark, N. J., with a simple request to administer it to invalid soldiers in order to test more particularly its tonic and restorative properties, which was continued for several months, resulting in justifying all that we had anticipated. In addition to this it effected a cure, in a brief time, of several inveterate cases of Fever and Ague, which had defied the usual remedy of quinine.

Simultaneously, however, with its introduction to the United States Hospital, by ourselves and through friends, it was used by invalids connected with some of the most respectable families in New-York, Brooklyn, and other adjacent cities, afflicted with diseases, some of which were of a chronic character, others who were convalescents only, and responses from all, of the most favorable character, have been received; therefore, with such results, we present it to the public, claiming immunity from the charge of introducing an untried and worthless article.

ROMAINE'S CRIMEAN BITTERS

Is composed of Calisaya or Peruvian Bark, with nine other Medicinal Plants, Roots and Extracts, chiefly products of the Tropics of Asia and America. To the original formula an addition has been made of one more herb, by the advice of one of the first physicians of New-York, with a view of curing the lighter forms of Neuralgia and Rheumatism.

We claim for it, as the result of trials, a cure for Fever and Ague, Dyspepsia and its usual offspring, viz.: Indigestion, Constipation, Flatulence, Sick and Nervous Headache, Nausea—General Debility, Colic, Sea Sickness. By its daily use in the tropics it will act as a preventive of Bilious Intermittent Fever; also, by its Tonic properties, counteract the enervating effects of the climate. It pleasantly exhilarates, but is followed by no stupefying reaction.

The Professional of every class, especially of sedentary life, will find, by daily use, nothing so well adapted to strengthen and cheer both mind and body. The aged will also find it a pleasant and sure staff.

CERTIFICATE.
New-York, Feb. 11, 1863.

From a knowledge of the ingredients and their proportions entering into the composition known as "Romaine's Crimean Bitters," we are enabled to speak of it in terms of high commendation. Peruvian Bark being one of its principal constituents, together with herbs, roots and extracts having decided medicinal properties, we have no hesitation in recommending it to physicians and the public generally, as an invigorating tonic, intended to stimulate the digestive organs.

From its alterative properties, it is calculated to prevent, by its daily use in moderate quantities, Constipation, Fever and Ague, mild forms of Neuralgia and Rheumatism. It is an antidote to the effects produced by change of water and diet, correcting Diarrhœa, curing Dyspepsia, Colic, Sick and Nervous Headache, Nausea, Sea Sickness. It is expressly adapted to females of delicate constitutions, and the infirmities of age.

This preparation is composed exclusively of vegetable materials, containing no metallic or mineral substances whatever. Its taste is aromatic, warming and acceptable to the palate and stomach.

JAMES R. CHILTON, M. D.
JULIUS G. POHLE, M. D.

Certificates from the Assistant Surgeon and one of the attending Physicians of the United States Hospital, at Newark, N. J., attesting the benefits derived from the use of Crimean Bitters, may be seen at the office of the depot.

THE NEW TESTAMENT,
WITH BRIEF EXPLANATORY NOTES (or SCHOLIA)
By Prof. Howard Crosby, D.D. 1 vol., 12mo, pp. 540. Price $1 50.

This book is intended to meet the wants of the Bible reader by solving in a brief and suggestive manner the difficulties of the English text. There is no commentary or discussion of doctrine, but simply an explanation of text and context. It gives the result of Biblical scholarship. Its brevity and point will commend it in these days of prolix commentaries.

FROM MARCUS McALLISTER, ESQ.
Morley, N. Y., Sept. 24, 1860.
Gentlemen: In the early part of last Winter I was suddenly attacked with a very severe Cold, which settled on my Lungs, producing a painful Cough, Soreness and Inflammation of the Throat and Lungs, together with a prostration of the whole system.
I was informed by physicians that my complaint was disease of the Liver, and was treated for that disorder. After suffering for three months I tried a bottle of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and received immediate and permanent relief. Since then I have used it in other cases of Colds in my family, with the same satisfactory results. I can conscientiously recommend it to all who suffer from Coughs, Colds, or any Pulmonary affection, as the best remedy which can be had.
Yours truly, MARCUS McALLISTER.

PEREMPTORY SALE OF AN ELEGANT COUNTRY SEAT TO CLOSE AN ESTATE.

EDWARD H. LUDLOW & CO., Auctioneers, by order of WILLIAM H. ASPINWALL, Executor, Will sell at public auction, at the
MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE SALESROOMS,
No. 111 Broadway, New-York,
ON WEDNESDAY, APRIL 15, 1863,
At 12 o'clock M.,

The estate known as NETHERWOOD, formerly the residence of the late Gardiner G. Howland, situate on the Hudson River, between New-Hamburgh and Poughkeepsie, containing 255 acres, with a river front of a mile, and embracing five building sites, each with extensive and beautiful views of land and water.

There are on the premises a mansion house, a cottage dwelling, gardener's house, entrance lodge, stables, greenhouse and grapery, and also farmhouse, barns, &c. The main entrance is over a graveled road of about half a mile in length, bordered by a great variety of American and foreign trees. The unusual attractions of the place, the fertility of its soil, its salubrity, and its unexceptionable neighborhood, noted for its fine roads, renders this estate a most desirable country home for a gentleman of taste and fortune.

Maps of the property may be had of the auctioneers, No. 3 Pine-st.

AUCTION SALES.

SCRANTON COAL AT AUCTION.

OFFICE OF THE DELAWARE, LACKAWANNA AND }
WESTERN R. R. Co., No. 35 WILLIAM-ST., }
NEW-YORK, April 14, 1863. }

In continuation of the system of monthly auction sales, this Company will offer at public auction, on WEDNESDAY, April 22, 1863, at 12 o'clock, noon, at the room now used as the Merchants' Exchange, Nos. 26 and 28 Exchange-place, corner of William-st., by SIMEON DRAPER, auctioneer,

THIRTY THOUSAND TONS OF FRESH MINED SCRANTON COAL, embracing all the usual sizes, and deliverable at their depot, Elizabethport, N. J., after the 1st of May next. They will repeat such auction sales on or about the 20th of each month, during the year 1863.

The sale will be positive. Each lot put up will be sold to the highest bidder; no bids, in any form whatever, being made for account of or on behalf of the Company.

Fifty cents per ton, in bankable funds, to be paid at the time and place of sale, and the balance in like funds, on receiving the order for the coal, which must be called for within ten days thereafter, and the coal taken away within thirty days from the day of sale, unless navigation is obstructed. Buyers who wish, however, can have an additional thirty days for taking the delivery of their purchases, by making a further deposit of fifty cents per ton, within the ten days above specified. Interest, at 7 per cent. per annum, will in such case be charged on the balance, from the time stipulated for payment until paid; and twenty-five cents per ton to cover the expense of stocking the coal, both to be paid on delivery of order.

The other conditions of sale will be substantially those hitherto accepted by all purchasers, by private contract, of Coal deliverable at Elizabethport, as far as applicable. The coal will be delivered direct from the cars on their arrival from the mines, when practicable—otherwise from the stock. These conditions will be modified to meet the wants of ocean steamers, whose arrival cannot be definitely fixed.

With a reliable avenue from the Lackawanna and Wyoming Valleys to tide-water, open every day in the year, (Sundays excepted,) requiring but twelve hours for the transit of the trains, the advantages of such sales, and the superior condition in which the coal will be delivered, are so apparent, they cannot doubt this mode of selling will commend itself to the favorable consideration of both the trade and consumers, whose coöperation is respectfully invited.

C. R. ROBERT, President.

VERMILYE & CO.,
BANKERS, NO. 44 WALL-STREET,

Will receive subscriptions to the United States Six Per Cent. Five-Twenty Bonds.

Subscribers depositing with us will receive Bonds of date of subscription, subject to no accruing interest.

After a few days the supply from the Government will have been so far increased as to avoid all delays in filling orders, and enable us to keep constantly on hand an assortment equal to the demand.

VERMILYE & CO., Agents 5-20 Loan.

UNITED STATES TREASURY.

NEW YORK, April 4, 1863.

Parties desiring to obtain the United States six (6) per cent. Bonds of 1882, commonly called Five-twenties, either for investment or resale, can procure them upon application at this office.

JOHN J. CISCO,
Assistant Treasurer U. S.

AGENCY OF THE

NATIONAL (FIVE-TWENTY YEAR) LOAN.

OFFICE OF LIVERMORE, CLEWS & Co., }
No. 34 Wall-st., New-York. }

We take this means of answering the numerous inquiries made of us respecting the United States Five-Twenty Loan, for which we act as agents.

Said Bonds bear six per cent. interest, payable semi-annually, in gold, on the first of May and the first of November.

Have twenty years to run, but being redeemable at the pleasure of the Government after five years, are designated Five-Twenties.

Are issued both in Coupon and Registered Bonds; the former in denominations of 50's, 100's, 500's, 1,000's; the latter in 50's, 100's, 500's, 1,000's, 5,000's and 10,000's.

The Coupon Bonds have coupons attached for twenty years, and are payable transferable to bearer.

The Registered are issued in the name of the purchaser, (whose name and residence are recorded on the books of the Treasury Department at Washington,) and are only transferable by signature, or power of Attorney, before an authorized Government official. The interest is collected in the same manner at the Sub-Treasury nearest the owner's residence.

Both principal and interest are payable in gold, as provided by act of Congress.

Are, (in common with all Government Bonds,) free from taxation by city, town, county or State; and the income derived therefrom is subject only to one-half of the United States tax levied upon incomes derived from other sources.

The privilege of conversion at par will cease on the 1st of July, 1863.

These Bonds are supplied by us at par and accrued interest in currency—interest commencing to the purchaser upon deposit of the money. Hence, the first coupon falling due, being stamped with the date of the issue of the Bond, will be fractional, instead of three per cent., like the succeeding ones.

We shall shortly be prepared to deliver all the various denominations upon application.

The engravers and printers have been unable to furnish blank bonds to the extent required, but every effort is being made to meet the demand, and it is expected that with the increased force now employed upon them, there will be less delay hereafter.

Orders, by mail or otherwise, accompanied by draft on New-York, or current funds, will be promptly responded to.

PROPOSALS FOR $250,000 CENTRAL PARK IMPROVEMENT FUND STOCK OF 1876.—Sealed proposals will be received at the Comptroller's Office until THURSDAY, the 30th day of April, 1863, at 2 o'clock P. M., when the same will be publicly opened for the whole or any part of the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars of the Central Park Improvement Fund Stock authorized by chapter eighty-five of the laws of the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty, and by an ordinance of the Common Council, approved by the Mayor April twenty-five, one thousand eight hundred and sixty.

The said Stock will bear interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum, payable quarter yearly, and the principal will be redeemed November one, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six.

The proposals will state the amount of Stock desired, and the price per one hundred dollars thereof, and the persons whose proposals are accepted will be required to deposit with the Chamberlain of the City, within five days after the opening of the bids, the sums awarded to them respectively.

On presenting to the Comptroller the receipts of the Chamberlain for such deposits, the parties will be entitled to receive certificates for equal amounts of the par value of the Stock, bearing interest from the dates of payments.

Each proposition should be sealed, and indorsed "Proposals for Central Park Improvement Fund Stock," and inclosed in a second envelope, addressed to the Comptroller.

The right is reserved to reject any or all of the bids, if the interests of the Corporation require it.

Bonds to become due on the 15th of June, 1864, by an issue, having twenty-five years to run, of Five Per Cent. Coupon Bonds, to mature on the 15th of December, 1887, with interest from the 15th of December last, payable in New-York semi-annually on the 15th of June and 15th of December.

An allowance of Three Per Cent. for the difference in interest between the three Coupons yet to mature on the outstanding Bonds, and those of corresponding dates on the proposed issue, will be made to the holders of the former on the surrender of the Bonds held by them to be exchanged for the new Bonds.

This surrender may be made at any time hereafter, accompanied by a memorandum of numbers and amounts, at the Bank of Commerce in New-York, at the office of J. E. THAYER & BROTHER, Boston, or at this office, when the three per cent. above mentioned will be paid in cash.

The delivery of the new bonds will commence, at the same places, on the 20th day of March inst.

The option of the new bonds now offered to the holders of those of 1864, will remain open until and including the 30th day of April next, unless withdrawn, before that time, by at least ten days' previous public notice.

The bonds will be of the denomination of $1,000, only, except that registered bonds, without coupons, of the denomination of $5,000, will be issued to parties applying for them.

A sinking fund of two per cent. per annum on the whole amount of the issue will be applied to its reduction or to providing means towards its payment, in such manner and under such regulations as the Directors may from time to time prescribe.

MEDICAL.

CAUTION.

MOFFAT'S LIFE PILLS AND PHŒNIX BITTERS.

Druggists and medicine dealers throughout the country are cautioned against buying or selling certain medicines prepared by

JOHN MOFFAT & CO., No. 32 East 17th-st., and which are claimed to be the genuine

LIFE PILLS AND PHŒNIX BITTERS.

An injunction has been issued by the Court, on the application of the representatives of the late proprietor,

DR. WILLIAM B. MOFFAT, (deceased,) restraining the said John Moffat & Co. from making or selling the same, and every effort will be made to protect the trade and the public against a

SPURIOUS ARTICLE.

The undersigned is the only person authorized to manufacture the

GENUINE LIFE PILLS AND PHŒNIX BITTERS,

as they have been heretofore manufactured and sold by the late proprietor.

You who suffer, delay not a moment to read that popular illustrated work "Human Frailty," and be convinced. Published by DR. BARROW, No. 194 Bleecker-st., four doors from Macdougal-st., New-York. Sent free everywhere on receiving the amount, 25 cents, in postage currency. Sold also by Wells & Co., No. 115 Franklin-st., New-York, and J. Worthington, No. 206 Fulton-st., Brooklyn. Dr. Barrow consulted as usual on those specialties for which he is so eminent. N. B.—No. 194 Bleecker-st., four doors from Macdougal-st., New-York.

SECRET DISEASES! SECRET DISEASES!

SAMARITAN'S GIFT!
SAMARITAN'S GIFT!
The most certain remedy ever used.
Yes, a Positive Cure.
BALSAM COPAVIA AND MERCURY DISCARDED
Only ten pills to be taken to effect a cure.

They are entirely vegetable, having no smell nor any unpleasant taste, and will not, in any way, injure the stomach or bowels of the most delicate.

Cures in from two to four days, and recent cases in "twenty-four hours."

No exposure, no trouble, no change whatever.

Price, male packages $2, female $3. Sold by H. C. OAKLEY, No. 11 Park-row. Sent by mail by DESMOND & CO., Philadelphia.

CAUTION TO LADIES.

Madame RESTELL, Female Physician, No. 162 Chambers-street, deems it her duty to caution ladies against impostors, who appropriate her advertisements, word for word, merely substituting some ignorant and wholly irresponsible person as "Madame."

These persons have spurious "Female Monthly Pills" and other poisonous compounds to deprive the unwary or the easily duped, as well of their means as of their health. That ladies may avoid these impositions, Madame Restell feels called upon to give this caution.

SURE CURE—BY DR. POWERS, SUCCESSfully consulted with Dr. Ward, No. 12 Laight-st. Conducted on the plan of the Hospital des Veneriens, Paris, where those afflicted with any form of private disease can receive prompt treatment, without risk or exposure, viz.: Syphilis, gonorrhœa, gleet, strictures, ulcers, tumors, cancers, secondary and constitutional syphilis, diseases of the kidneys, &c., &c. Thirty years of extensive practice, exclusively devoted to the treatment of those complaints enable us to effect cures in cases where others of less experience have failed. Dr. Powers' Essence of Life restores the vigor of youth in four weeks. This marvelous agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitutions—physical disqualifications, impediments to marriage, thereby speedily cured. The men to consult, Drs. Ward and Powers, the champions and kings of venereal diseases, possessing the most certain, speedy and only effectual remedies in the world, guarantee a perfect cure, or no charge, in from one to three days. Established in 1840. N. B.—Those who have used their preventives are never without. Send for a circular. To Ladies.—Dr. Powers' Periodical Drops are a safe and certain remedy for monthly irregularities. The above remedies sent by mail. The afflicted should read their circular. Postage free, on receipt of a stamp. Cures warranted.

PRIVATE DISEASES CURED IN THE shortest possible time, by DR. WARD & [illegible], No. 12 Laight-st., near Canal, without the use of Mercury, loss of time or change of diet. Dr. WARD, from the hospitals of London, Paris and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 28 years practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and expense than any one can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health, call; it will take but little money and time to restore you. If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this much-neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhœa or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from Impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks. Permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance, failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to DR. WARD, No. 12 Laight-st., the only place. Call, send or write.

MADAME RESTELL, FEMALE PHYSICIAN can be consulted, as usual, at No. 162 Chambers-st., or by letter, and medicine sent by mail. Her FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS are the only medicine married or single ladies can rely upon with safety and certainty. Price $1 a box. Sold at No. 162 Chambers-st., No. 127½ Liberty-st. and No. 403 Hudson-st., New-York. Can also be obtained at No. 214 Grand-st., Williamsburgh, and No. 175 Fulton-st., Brooklyn, or by mail. All other "Female Monthly Pills" are counterfeit.

N. B.—Ladies who desire to avail themselves of Madame RESTELL'S valuable, certain and safe mode of removing obstructions, suppressions, &c., &c., from whatever cause, without the use of medicine or instruments, can do so at one interview.

DR. COBBETT, MEMBER OF THE N. Y University, (Medical College,) and Royal College of Surgeons, London, has removed from No. 19 Duane-st. to his present very convenient suite of offices at No. 22 Centre-st., between Chambers and Reade sts., with a private entrance at No. 6 City Hall-place, where he can be consulted with the most honorable confidence on all diseases affecting the urinary organs; thirty years in his present specialty, (three of which have been at the hospitals of this City,) enable him to guarantee a cure in every case undertaken, or make no charge. Strictures of the urethra, impotency, seminal weaknesses, &c., treated on the most scientific principles. N. B.—As a proof of Dr. C.'s qualifications, he would call special attention to his Diplomas, which can be seen in his office.

DR. COOPER, NO. 14 DUANE-ST., MAY BE confidently consulted on all diseases of a private nature. A practice of 30 years, devoted to the treatment and cure of Syphilitic, Mercurial and diseases of a delicate nature, enables Dr. C. to make speedy and permanent cures, no matter of how long standing the case may be. Strictures of the urethra and seminal weakness, brought on by a secret habit, effectually cured. The victims of misplaced confidence, who have been misled by quack advertisements, can call on Dr. C. with the certainty of being radically cured. N. B.—Dr. C. is a qualified physician and surgeon, and a member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New-York. Office hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

THE VIGOR OF YOUTH IS RESTORED by Dr. POWERS' ESSENCE OF LIFE OR INVIGORATING ELIXIR, and Dr. Powers Radical Pills or Physical Regenerator. Young man! Are you subject to that foul and body destroying disease resulting from secret habits? Dr. POWERS' Invigorating Essence and Radical Pills briefly cure the very worst cases, while innocent of anything deleterious, and are warranted a never-failing cure. Prepared and sold by Dr. POWERS, No. 12 Laight-st., New-York. Afflicted, try them! They will certainly cure. Send for circular, read it carefully, and then you will send for the remedies.

IMPORTANT TO THE MARRIED AND THOSE ABOUT TO BE MARRIED.—Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Professor of Diseases of Women, has just published the 160th edition of the valuable book, entitled "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION," strictly intended for those whose health or circumstances forbid a too rapid increase of family. Price $1. Sold at his office, No. 129 Liberty-st., New-York; or can be sent by mail, free of postage to any part of the United States and Canada, by inclosing $1, and addressing Box No. 1,224 New-York City. For sale by H. RICHARDSON, at No. 1 Vesey-st., (Astor House,) and No. 18 Ann-st.; FEDERHEN & CO., 13 Court-st., Boston.

PARIS, LONDON AND NEW-YORK MEDICAL ADVISER AND MARRIAGE GUIDE—75th edition, 400 pages, nearly 100 engravings, cloth—upon Debility, Nervous, Seminal, Genito-Urinary, and Sexual Diseases, by M. LARMONT, Physician and Surgeon. Consultation (by letter or in person) at No. 647 Broadway, (up stairs,) New-York City. Mailed in sealed envelopes for $1, by E. WARNER, No. 1 Vesey-st., Astor House, and S. TOUSEY, No. 121 Nassau-st.

DR. HUNTER'S RED DROP RESTORES the vigor of youth in four days. Restores manhood to the most shattered system. No. 3 Division-st., New-York, the only place. Beware of bogus Dr. Hunters. The City is full of knaves, up to every trick to rob Dr. HUNTER of his great reputation as a skillful and reliable physician. He has no other office but No. 3 Division-st. Established in 1834. Eight separate rooms and a private entrance.

SOMETHING FOR EVERY LADY.—DR. WARD'S Great Female Benefactor or Golden Regulating Pills. Infallible in correcting, regulating and removing all obstructions, from whatever cause, designed for purely legitimate purposes—to restore the menstrual fluid—and they will never disappoint the anxious patient. Office, No. 12 Laight-st., where Dr. WARD can be consulted, confidentially, day and evening.

SULPHUR AND VAPOR BATHS—ESTABlished in 1820.—The only genuine baths in the United States, at No 1 Carroll-place, Bleecker-st., corner of Laurens, for cure of rheumatism, mercurial affections, &c. Given daily by Dr. A. L. TIMOLAT & CO.

PRIVATE CONSULTATION.—DR. HUNTER has, for thirty years, confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated no less than fifty thousand cases, without an instance of failure. His great remedy, HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures certain diseases, when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; cures without the dreadful consequent effects of mercury, but possesses the peculiarly valuable property of annihilating the rank and poisonous taint that the blood is sure to absorb, unless his remedy is used. That is what he claims for it, and what no other will accomplish. Its value in this respect has become so well known, that scientific men in every department of medical knowledge begin to appreciate it, for hardly a week passes that he is not consulted by druggists, chemists and physicians, in regard to some pitiful patient who has exhausted the whole field of the faculty, and still the disease will appear. Its popularity is so great, that there is not a quack doctor in the City that has not attacked it; and when they find their lies are not so easily swallowed, they then pretend that they can make it. It is $1 a vial, and cannot be obtained genuine anywhere but at the old office, No. 3 Division-st. Book for 15 three-cent stamps, 300 pages, 100 colored illustrations. The best work out.

These wild children of the forest have notified the Management that they

CANNOT REMAIN AFTER TO-DAY,
CANNOT REMAIN AFTER TO-DAY,
consequently this is the
LAST OPPORTUNITY TO SEE THEM.
LAST OPPORTUNITY TO SEE THEM.
LAST OPPORTUNITY TO SEE THEM.

Will the public miss it? Will parents fail to have their children see

THESE RED MEN OF THE FOREST,
THESE RED MEN OF THE FOREST,

whose lives and peculiarities form so large a page in our country's history?

They will be ON EXHIBITION DAY and EVENING.

Let it be remembered that they are no common Indians, but

CHIEFS AND RULERS

of their tribes, and represent some of the most powerful of the Indian nations, as the

KIOWAS, COMANCHES, APACHES, ARRAPAHOES, CADDOS AND CHEYENNES.

Their names, though not euphonious to refined ears, are significant, as:

Lone Wolf,	Little Heart,	War Bonnet,
White Bear,	Poor Bear,	Pricked Forehead,
Yellow Buffalo,	Spotted Wolf,	Ten Bears.

They appear in their native costumes, and present the attractive feature of the

RED MAN IN HIS NATIVE GRANDEUR!

fresh from the hunting-grounds and

WIGWAMS OF HIS WILD ABODES.

In addition to these extraordinary wonders,

PETITE MINNIE WARREN,

The real Empress of Beauty, and the redoubtable

COMMODORE NUTT, THE $30,000 NUTT,

Will be exhibited at each performance, besides

APPEARING AT ALL HOURS,
DAY AND EVENING,

on the platform in the main hall of the Museum.

LETTER PRELIMINARY TO THE FIGHT.

STONO RIVER, S. C., Monday Evening, April 6, 1863.

To-morrow, in all probability, the attack upon Charleston will open, and upon the eve of the event, amid the distractions and excitements of the hour, I shall endeavor to give some account of the progress of our forces since their departure from Port Royal.

As long since as last Thursday some of the vessels of the expedition, consisting of ordnance and supply schooners, got under weigh, for a temporary rendezvous at North Edisto, a capacious and safe harbor, thirty miles up the coast in the direction of Charleston. The sudden and almost simultaneous movement of this fleet of trim fore-and-afters, as they were sped seaward by a stiff fair breeze, was the first portent to us all that the long days of planning were past, and the time of plan-executing was at hand.

The enthusiasm produced by this preliminary sign of active operations was enhanced on Friday morning, the 3d, upon observing that the flag of Admiral DUPONT had been transferred from the Wabash, whose great draft prevents her employment upon the present service, to the steamer James Adger, which left the harbor early, carrying the noble old hero. Following closely the Adger were the iron-clads Weehawken, Patapsco and Keokuk, the other Monitors having preceded them some days to the rendezvous.

Gen. HUNTER did not lag far in the rear of his naval colleague. Leaving the troops to follow under the direction of the division commanders, he embarked with his staff upon the Ben Deford, one of the handsomest steamers in the transport service, which had been chosen for his flag-ship, and she left the dock at 10½ o'clock. At about the same time another crowd of white-winged supply schooners was dispatched, and the offing presented a pleasing spectacle as the vessels outward tended. The wind was fresh and fair for canvased crafts, and inspiriting for all.

Arriving at North Edisto about four o'clock, we found ourselves among the advanced vessels of the expedition, both naval and military, and dropped anchor amid a fleet of Monitors, gunboats, mortar-schooners, colliers, and a variety of other craft, which were picturesquely grouped without the slightest apparent distinction as to which arm of the service they belonged. Near us, to the right, upon Seabrook Island, was discovered the camp smoke and white tents of STEVENSON's brigade, reminding us that a week before these troops had been sent here to protect the rendezvous, and a mile or two beyond, upon Wadmelaw Island, glistening in the declining sun, the spire and ghostly dwellings of the deserted village of Rockville. To the left, through distant foliage, there were also here and there glimpses of the empty mansions of "fugitive masters."

At night a cold rain set in, with a wind strong from the eastward which, in the morning after the sky had cleared, continued to blow, necessitating delay, and affording me an opportunity to make sketches of the two great chiefs of the expedition.

The chance of running up to Charleston bar on Sunday morning was too favorable even for so conscientious a man respecting Sabbath observances as Admiral DUPONT to allow it to slip. The day seemed especially sent by Providence to invite a forward movement, and by 8 o'clock the fleet of iron vessels, preceded by the flagship James Adger, were coursing through the smooth water for Charleston bar. The Keokuk, being of lightest draft, alone crossed over for the purpose of planting buoys to mark the way for the rest of the fleet, and the others came to anchor outside, looking like pigmies in contrast with the huge sloping-sided hulk of the New Ironsides and the magnificent and graceful sloops-of-war which have long so faithfully sealed to foreign traffic the once prosperous city whose spires could yonder be seen. Save a few signal guns from Cummings' Point battery, when the Keokuk passed the bar, the rebels gave no other sign that they were prepared to resist the retribution that awaits them. The Coast Survey steamer Bibb assisted the Keokuk in the mission she was detailed to perform, and on their return, late in the afternoon, the last of the naval preparations for the conflict was completed.

Leaving the squadron at the bar clustered near the main ship channel, I took a run into Stono, passing safely through the narrow entrance to the channel, where good piloting and lively steering alone can take even the smallest vessels between the treacherous sandbars, capped with seething foam, and found within the harbor, protected by the guns of the Pawnee, a large number of transports, containing the land forces that had arrived on Saturday, while the rest of us tarried at Edisto. At this time it would be improper to reveal anything respecting the number or the organization of the troops, neither can I give information of the plan of operations, further than to state that the soldiers are to cooperate, if necessary, with the navy, by attacking the batteries on Morris Island in flank and rear. The probability is that warm work is before them, and they do not shrink from the encounter. Upon the navy, however, must fall the brunt of the battle, and of their operations I can write without restriction.

This morning dawned promisingly for the work before us, but with the rising sun, a soft breeze came from the south-southwest, spreading a hazy mantle over the water. Returning to the bar, where Gen. HUNTER had remained with his flagship all night, I was just in time to witness the transfer of the Admiral's flag from the Adger to the grim Ironsides, that uncouth monster of the deep, whose enormous bulk, looming castle-like through the mist, unrelieved by vestige of a spar, and defiantly exposing her ponderous guns, invested her with a mien of terrible grandeur. She soon got under way, and was handsomely guided across the bar, thus relieving everybody of a vast load of apprehension lest her draft should preclude her taking part in the conflict. Preceded by a tug, with hawser attached, to keep her bows steady in the channel, she passed the point of danger, stirring the mud as she slid quietly over the bottom, while "the boldest held his breath for a time." Some in advance of her, and others following, were the majestic fleet of iron-clads—DUPONT's devil-fish, with bare decks scarcely above the water, moving with an imperceptible motion, and rising and falling upon the swell noiselessly as beds of sea-weed upon the Atlantic.

Half an hour brought the vessels to within about two miles of the lower battery on Morris Island, but the enemy did not open fire, and only evidenced his knowledge of their presence by signal guns from the direction of Fort Sumter. Admiral DUPONT formed his line of battle as follows:

[The order of battle we published yeterday.—ED. TIMES.]

The vessels extended nearly the entire length of Morris Island, at intervals, I should judge, of about a quarter of a mile, and anchoring, awaited the ebb-tide, which would be more favorable for manoeuvring than the flood. At 12½ o'clock, the hour at which Fort Sumter was to be attacked, the mist of the morning had almost become a fog, and it was not until 2, that the weather became clear enough to advance. The vessels at once got under way, moving forward cautiously, when in a very short time the fog again appeared and they were recalled to their anchorage. This was a disappointment, but we all try to bear it patiently, and pray for proper weather.

DETAILS OF THE BATTLE.

OFF CHARLESTON BAR, Tuesday Evening, April 7.

So fierce and yet almost bloodless a battle as that which was waged this afternoon within the shadow of Fort Sumter, between our iron-clads and the rebel works, has no parallel in the history of war. For rather more than two hours the thirty-four guns of our mailed fleet were opposed to the three hundred that protect the entrance to Charleston harbor, bristling from the fortifications of Morris and Sullivan's Islands, and the historic walls of Sumter.

My point of view is from the deck of the steamer Nantasket. We lie at the mouth of the North Channel, distant little more than three miles from Fort Sumter and the nearest point of Sullivan's Island. The day is delightful. A light breeze from the southeast lifts the thin mist that so frequently hangs over this latitude of almost perennial Summer, and all objects upon the land are revealed in clear outline, while seaward we have a wide horizon. Looking toward the shore, on our right hand, is discovered the white beach of Sullivan's Island, trending northeast, until it is hidden by the distance and dotted its entire length with the spacious residences and hotels that in by-gone times were the cool and agreeable Summer resorts of the sang-azule of the Carolinas. Still glancing landward, the eye next rests upon the cold grayish walls of Sumter, rising nakedly from the water almost in the centre of the bay, and just beyond, a mile and a quarter to the left, on the southwest end of Sullivan's Island, are a cluster of dingy-yellow buildings that compose the village of Moultrieville. A short space to the right of the village a large rebel ensign marks the location of Fort Moultrie, and again to the right, not more than a quarter of a mile, another flag floats over a strong earthwork. In the distance, beyond Sumter, yet plainly visible, are the spires and warehouses, the shaded battery and commerce-deserted wharves of Charleston. A few sail-boats are coursing swiftly over the bay, and three steam-vessels, two of which we suppose to be the rams Chicora and Palmetto State, give the only sign of animation to the scene, as they repeatedly move down toward the forts, and go back toward the town. Between Sumter and the city, and a little to the left, are the green tops of a pine forest, that lead the gaze down to the yellow sands of Morris Island, its batteries and encampments at Cumming's Point, and the three garrison flags that wave over them. Skirting the shore, at regular intervals, the fleet of Monitors lie quietly at anchor, only distinguishable by their black turrets and parti-colored smoke-stacks, their decks being nearly level with the water. In the centre of the line the uncouth hull of the New Ironsides looms vast above her colleagues, as a giant among pigmies. Turning seaward, we look upon the vessels of the blockading fleet that are strung along the bar, commanding every channel from Stono to Sullivan's Island, with top-hamper down, in full fighting trim, while every man on board regrets, as he watches the fleet inshore, that he cannot share with his comrades the glory and the danger of the coming battle. Near the Nantasket are the Ben Deford, containing Gen. HUNTER and his Staff, and the Coast Survey steamer Bibb, each with a quota of anxious spectators hoping and praying for a triumphant issue of the contest. The old flag, whose honor must be upheld now and forever, floats proudly from every ship as the mild air fans over, inspiring us anew with the sacred nature of our cause. Such is the picture, in faint outline, with its blending figures of beauty, of terror and of shame.

Twelve or one o'clock was the hour decided upon by Admiral DUPONT to move forward his line of battle, as, taking advantage of the ebb tide, the vessels could then more easily be manoeuvred in avoiding possible obstructions in the harbor, and keep steerage-way while heading toward the enemy.

It is now 10 o'clock, and as we nervously wait for the signal to advance, our steamer is hailed from the Ben Deford and requested to take a dispatch from Gen. HUNTER to the Admiral. We comply with alacrity, being glad to relieve the tediousness of watching, and of an opportunity to see the last preparations before going into the conflict. Passing over the bar, we are soon alongside the flagship. Most of the crew are upon the upper deck, enjoying the fine weather and fresh air, which are soon to be exchanged for the crowded quarters and stifling atmosphere of the gun-deck, when the ship is in battle. Every face shines with subdued excitement in anticipation of the approaching struggle. A few of the men, under the direction of superior officers, are spreading bales of raw-hide and bags of sand, evenly over the entire length of the upper deck for its better protection against plunging shot. The iron-plated pilot-house, nearly amidships, is swathed with heavy chains, adding to the security of the occupants. One narrow line near the top is all that remains uncovered, exposing the "peep-holes" through which alone outside scenes may be observed while the fight goes on, and half-a-dozen stalwart fellows are busy with cold chisels cutting away links of the cable to give a more unobstructed view. The clean, neat appearance which, in peaceful times, a war-vessel ordinarily presents, is now unpleasantly wanting. The vessel's masts have been removed, leaving her ungraceful hull anything but a thing of beauty. Her sides, in place of paint, are daubed with a thick coating of slush, and all on board seems disheveled and awry. As we wait, our attention is called to a few companies of rebel infantry, marching boldly along Morris Island beach, directly opposite us, about a mile away. They evidently are going to the southern end of the island, to assist in stopping the progress of one of our brigades that has landed upon Folly Island below. A shell from either of our vessels can scatter them like chaff, but they doubtless feel secure in their impudence, knowing that our game just now is more important. Our business with the Ironsides is soon ended. The gallant old Admiral comes from below, and hands to Capt. TAFFT, chief signal officer of the army, who accompanies us, the reply for Gen. HUNTER. Recognizing our party, he pleasantly returns our salute by raising his gold-banded cap, and as we wave our adieu to himself and officers, his venerable presence compels us to utter with more fervency the "God speed" which spontaneously wells from our hearts.

Returning to the Ben. Deford our little steamer has scarcely time to resume her old position before the hour fixed for the movement to commence is at hand. But the vessels continue at anchor, and we strain our eyes wearily, with glasses leveled upon the scene inshore, for an hour longer.

At 1¾ o'clock some one calls out that the Weehawken, foremost of the iron-clads, is moving. We look and see her forge rapidly ahead, past the sand hummocks on the beach, in the direction of Fort Sumter, and an instant afterward all the other vessels are discovered to be following. They move on noiselessly for a mile, preserving their relative distances, when the Weehawken slows her engines and advances more cautiously. Her colleagues do the same. We know that the first vessel is provided with a machine for exploding torpedoes and is to feel the way for the rest, therefore this slackening of speed is easily interpreted. The entire fleet is now within close range of the batteries on Cumming's Point and Fort Sumter, and may also be reached by the guns of Fort Moultrie and the battery below it, but as yet the rebels give no sign that they will fight. Fifteen minutes more elapse, and the ominous calm is at length broken at 2:27 by the rapid firing of eight signal guns from Fort Sumter, heralding the approaching contest. Still the Monitors and the Ironsides keep slowly steaming forward, and another anxious half hour passes, bringing the Weehawken, it seems to us, within hailing distance of the fort. This period of suspense is again interrupted by the report of a heavy gun from Moultrie, at precisely 5 minutes before 3, and the fall of the shot is marked by a column of water that shoots upward beside the Weehawken, and two other spray fountains which appear for an instant as the missile skips onward in the direction of the Passaic and Montauk. In a moment after the enemy commence in earnest. Spiteful flashes burst from the fortifications on Sullivan's Island and the batteries at Cumming's Point belch out their wicked fire. It is soon evident that the rebels are determined to attack the Monitors in detail, in the hope of sinking them by the tons of metal that can be directed upon them at a single discharge. At first, therefore, the awful tempest bursts upon the Weehawken, and she seems is devoted to destruction. It was a moment of thrilling excitement to all of us when she entirely disappeared from view beneath the volumes of water in which she is buried turret-deep, by the plunging shot. But again we see her, as, nobly withstanding the shock, she presses on, letting slip a 15-inch solid shot upon Fort Sumter. It is well aimed, and apparently strikes the southeast face of the work. In three minutes more all the barbette and casemate guns of the fort that can be brought to bear upon the Weehawken, hitherto grimly silent, simultaneously open, and unite their thunders with those of the other batteries that have been pealing their horrid crashes incessantly. Again the little vessel is hidden by the vexed waters as they are dashed up furiously around her, and fall, mingled with a torrent of metal, against her sides and turret, and again she disappears.

The Passaic by this time has got abreast of Sumter, and, reaching the place just vacated by the Weehawken, is made the target of a concentrated fire. It is now clear to every observer that in precisely that spot is the point of intersection of the fire from Cumming's Point, Fort Moultrie, the heavy battery just seaward of Moultrie, and also of the guns on the southeast face of Fort Sumter. This place of concentrated fire is within half a mile of Sumter, and as each vessel crosses the line she receives her awful baptism.

At 20 minutes past three the Weehawken, Passaic, Montauk and Patapsco, all of them having preceded the New Ironsides in the order of the attack, safely passed the eastern face of the fort, and, shielded from the batteries on Morris Island, but now fully exposed to the terrible fire from Moultrie, Fort Beauregard and Battery Bee, as well as Fort Ripley and Castle Pinckney up the harbor, continue moving forward, delivering their shot and shell as fast as practicable against Sumter and disregarding the other batteries. Penetrating a distance of a third of a mile, perhaps, beyond, their further progress is arrested by a line of obstructions across the channel between Sumter and Moultrie. Here the torpedo exploder of the Weehawken comes into use, destroying a petard without injury to the vessel, and, at the same time, the Patapsco gets entangled and remains for a quarter of an hour in a net-work of cables, that seriously imperiled her, but from which Commander AMMEN extricates her, unaided.

Meantime the New Ironsides comes up, followed by the Catskill, Nantucket, Nahant and Keokuk, all of them passing through the rebel fire which has not slackened its original severity. The flagship, on account of her excessive draft of water, cannot get as near to Fort Sumter as the other vessels, and therefore she is placed by the Admiral in a position about midway between Forts Moultrie and Sumter, in the centre of the channel, within 1,200 yards of either fort. She is about to deliver a broadside into Fort Moultrie, when her bows swing around with the tide, and it becomes necessary to drop an anchor to prevent her going ashore. As the chain again brings her head up stream, she delivers half a dozen shots from her 11-inch guns upon Moultrie, but the tide is still ebbing fast and admits no further delay, compelling her to move back again past Sumter, where, for the second time, her anchor is dropped to avoid running on the bottom. She is now within good range of the Cumming's Point batteries, at which she discharges two shots, with the effect, it is thought, of dismounting one of their guns and exploding a magazine, as there is a loud report and the fire from the battery ceases. This is all that the Ironsides does in the contest, and soon afterwards she slowly retires from the immediate scene of the action.

For two long hours the fight has now been going on with fury, the rebel artillerists serving their guns vigorously, and for some time giving the Monitors, by actual count, as many as 70 shots a minute. These determined little craft, however, will not be daunted, and every one of them, including the Keokuk, whose comparatively exposed build might well have excused the temerity, approaches within 500 to 600 yards of Sumter, keeping bare steerage-way, and deliberately delivering her fire.

We could see that the rebels sent us at least 100 shots in return for one of ours, but it must be taken into consideration that, with the exception of the Montauk and the Passaic, none of the Monitors had had practice in working their guns. The entire matter was new to the crews, and rapid firing can only be attained through experience. Another great drawback to celerity of operation was the difficulty of navigation, and the necessity of feeling along cautiously for torpedoes and obstructions, thus distracting the attention of the officers. The horrible din, also, of the steel-pointed projectiles, which the rebels seem mainly to have used, as they slammed against the turrets and scored deeply across the decks, did much to render ears unaccustomed to such sounds unable to catch the orders of the officers.

Soon after 5 o'clock the firing on the rebel side very perceptibly flagged, undoubtedly from sheer physical exhaustion on the part of their gunners, and upon a signal from the Admiral the fleet slowly emerged from beneath the pall of gray smoke that draped the walls of Sumter, and impregnated the atmosphere for miles with a sulphurous smell, moving down the shore of Morris Island about half the distance to their former anchorage. Here they again formed line of battle still within range of the forts, with which they exchanged a few shots as they retired.

It was now almost dusk, and the Nantasket went across the bar to communicate with the fleet, for the purpose of obtaining the particulars of the encounter. I went myself to the Keokuk, (WHITNEY's battery,) and found that she had been shattered terribly. Climbing with difficulty her slippery, slanting sides, which were plastered thickly with a tallowy compound to answer the double purpose of keeping off boarding parties and deflecting the course of shot, I found myself among the powder-begrimed crew, who were talking excitedly of the fiery ordeal through which they had just passed. A very cursory examination satisfied me that the vessel was past further service. She had been struck ninety odd times. Her deck and sides were deeply furrowed on almost every yard of space. Both turrets were shattered and perforated, and in the after turret a 150-pound Whitworth projectile still remained after penetrating the armor more than a foot, although it struck at a very acute angle. The water compartments at either end of the vessel were crushed in, exposing immense ragged holes like the entrances to caverns. In almost every instance the iron bolts that secured the plating to the turrets and hull were loose and protruding three or four inches, and she was leaking badly through several shot holes just at the water line. During the action she was unable to fire more than three times, as the turrets were untenable from the shower of bolt-heads and fragments of plating and splinters of wood that whizzed across them every time they were struck. Being a more prominent object to fire at than the other Monitors, she received a great deal more than her share of the enemy's attention.

The casualties were few, and mainly on board the Keokuk. It is getting late, however, and I must be excused, after this fatiguing and exciting day, from writing more particularly at present.

THE DAY AFTER THE BATTLE.

CHARLESTON BAR, Wednesday, April 8, 1863.

When the Nantasket arrived off Charleston Bar this morning, from her snug anchorage at Stono Inlet, the vessels of the blockading fleet were rolling uneasily at their anchors, and the entire line of bar, for thirteen miles, was a wide streak of angry foam. The fleet of iron-clads remained in the position that they had taken at the close of yesterday's contest, near the upper end of Morris Island, still within range of the guns of Fort Sumter and the Cumming's Point batteries, while the navy tug Daffodil was busily communicating, first with one vessel and then another, as if conveying instructions from Admiral DUPONT respecting further operations. Neither fleet nor forts seemed willing to renew the fight, and all day long the silence was preserved, excepting by a battery at the lower end of Morris Island, that sent an occasional shell in the direction of a spreading cloud of smoke that rose from the woods of Folly Island, where our soldiers were encamped.

As soon as the sea moderated sufficiently for a small boat to be lowered, I started upon a tour of inquiry and observation, from which I ascertained the following facts:

The Keokuk sunk a few minutes after 8 A. M. All night her crew had worked faithfully to keep her afloat, and succeeded pretty well until about daylight. The wind at that time rose, causing a heavy swell, and as the vessel wallowed, the water streamed in at the many shot-holes in her hull, first through those on one side and then through those on the other, gradually gaining over the ability of the pumps to discharge it. As the vessel settled, the water found additional and still increasing means of entrance by the total submergence of other shot-holes, and finally it poured in with such a volume as to preclude all hope of keeping the vessel afloat. Surgeon GEO. D. SLOCUM, who had been unremitting in his attention to the wounded as they lay on the berth deck, was first to discover the imminent peril of the vessel, and hastily ordering the removal of his charge, informed Capt. RHIND, who was suffering from a severe wound in the knee that confined him to his cabin, of the condition of affairs. A very slight inspection was sufficient for Capt. RHIND to understand that there was not a moment to spare, and he told the crew to look out for their personal safety. Fortunately the tug Daffodil was within hail, and coming closer, the work of transhipment commenced in small boats. First the wounded were removed, Surgeon SLOCUM himself carrying the insensible body of poor MCINTOSH, an Acting Ensign, whose skull had been fractured by a fragment of iron; and in fifteen minutes, the last man having had barely time to step from her deck, the ill-fated Keokuk gave a few lurches and disappeared. Very little in the way of personal effects was saved by either officers or men; and it was providential, considering the hurried manner in which the vessel was abandoned, that no lives were lost. At low tide the top of the turrets, the flagstaff and rim of the smoke-stack may be seen, just rising out of the water, and we are confident that the rebels are aware of the disaster. Already they are busy in what appears to us to be the construction of a battery on the Morris Island shore, within two miles of the spot where the vessel went down, intending most likely to annoy us if an effort should be made to raise her or destroy her with a torpedo.

THE CASUALTIES OF THE FIGHT.

There were only fourteen persons wounded, and not one but might have escaped injury had ordinary precautions been adopted to prevent the flying of bolt-heads. The sufferers were attached to the Keokuk and Nahant, and these were the only vessels, I am told, that had not been provided on the inside of the turrets and pilot-houses with a screen of boiler iron, standing a few inches from the walls, and having the intervening space filled with compressed hemp or some other elastic substance.

INJURIES TO THE VESSELS.

Inquiring among the iron-clads, I learned that each of them was struck on an average thirty times. To a great extent the rebels used projectiles of British manufacture, many of them being the steel bolts, polished like a knife-blade, that are thrown from Whitworth guns. These wicked tokens of the manner in which the English nation sticks to its professions of neutrality, as seen buried in the turrets of the Keokuk, were productive of anything but an increase of good will and respect toward a Government that has proved false to honor, and recreant to humanity, by its attitude in the pending struggle. Wherever a shot struck it left upon the armor of the vessel a well-defined scar, in the shape of a long groove upon the deck, or a deep indentation in the turret or hull. But these are glorious disfigurements, that militate very little against the strength of the vessel. The Nahant, the Passaic and the Nantucket are the only Monitors disabled, but the damage will be made good within a few days. Chief Engineer STIMERS, of the navy, is here with a corps of mechanics, and the proper tools and material to enter at once upon the repairs.

But though the Monitors might go again to-morrow into the fight, I am just informed that the attack will not be renewed.

There is no question that Sumter was badly battered from the effects of our fire. It is thought that three of the casemates on the northeast face were knocked into one, and on the southeast face the masonry, for a large space on the outer side, is very much altered in appearance from what it was before the engagement. We think that these light-hued blotches are significant of the commencement of a breach.

RETURN OF THE LAND FORCE.

STONO RIVER, S. C., Saturday, April 11, 1863.

The military portion of the expedition against Charleston, under Major-Gen. HUNTER, after experiencing a disappointment which you can well imagine, is now under orders to return to Hilton Head, and as these troops have been eagerly waiting to perform the secondary part of taking possession of such batteries that the navy might reduce, it would be unjust to close this record of the unsuccessful movement without giving them a word of commendation. That they have done done nothing independent of the navy, is neither the fault of their leader nor of themselves. Contemptibly few in numbers—so few, that it would be difficult to convince the rebels of the real weakness of the force, and yet comprising every available man that could be withdrawn from other points in the department—it would have been sheer madness in Gen. HUNTER to attempt independently even the most insignificant work in this direction. The division of Gen. FERRY was, however, placed on shore, and for the last week has occupied Cole's and Folly Islands. Extended reconnoissances have been made, that show the enemy has left nothing undone to strengthen his defences against the approach of a land force, having this point as its base. On James Island, where disaster overtook us last Summer, there are now three strong parallels of earthworks, commanding the entire length of Morris Island, and precluding the possibility of landing a force there. John's Island, also, on the southern bank of the Stono, bristles with the bayonets of at least 10,000 men; and the approach by way of Wahpoo Creek is also strongly fortified.

The Arago is to stop off the bar for dispatches at 1 o'clock. I send this by her. To-morrow our troops will all be at Hilton Head, and we shall await anxiously the next move, whatever it may be.

The iron-clads are still in the position they took after Tuesday's fight. The Ironsides cannot get across the bar until the next season of high tides, and the Monitors, until then, will keep her company. About next Thursday, probably, they will return to Port Royal from the scene of their discomfiture.

News has just come to us from Port Royal, that the army gunboat George Washington was destroyed by the rebels on Tuesday morning last, near Port Royal Ferry. The steamer was under command of Lieut. BLANDING, of the Third Rhode Island regiment, who had been sent by Gen. SAXTON to reconnoitre along the Coosaw River, which separates Port Royal Island from the main land. At a point opposite Brickyard Creek the rebels opened a heavy fire upon the gunboat from a number of field batteries, and their second shot entered her magazine, which exploded, destroying the after part of the vessel, wounding three men and killing outright privates WM. GREENHOLSCH and JOHN FALLON. A white flag was hoisted, but the rebels continued firing, and the remaining soldiers and crew were forced to jump overboard. Most of them managed to escape to Port Royal Island by floundering a mile through a marsh, but two were killed and several wounded as they made the attempt. The names of the sufferers I could not learn. There were eight taken to the hospital at Hilton Head. The boat burned to the water's edge.

REBEL CASUALTIES AT CHARLESTON.

From the Charleston Courier, of Wednesday.

During the battle, a drummer-boy, named AHRENS, was killed at Fort Sumter and five men wounded, two severely in the head, the others slightly. One man came to his death from the falling of the flag-staff of Fort Moultrie. Two houses on Sullivan's Island, on the back beach, were struck, one of which was demolished. A shot passed through Fort Sumter's flag.

Col. RHETT was in command of Fort Sumter; Col. BUTLER, of Fort Moultrie; Capt. SITGRAVES, of Fort Beauregard; Lieut.-Col. SIMKINS, of Battery Bee; Maj. HUGER, of Battery Wagner, and Lieut. LESESNE, with a detachment from Fort Sumter, of the battery on Cumming's Point.

Fort Sumter was hit thirty-four times, but received no damage.

We learn that six men belonging to Capt. MATHEWS' artillery company, stationed at Battery Wagner, were wounded. Two of these have since died. Two were very seriously wounded, and it was thought one would die before morning. The other two, including an officer, were but slightly wounded.

There were no casualties at the Cummin's Point Battery.

ARMY SUPPLIES—BEEF CATTLE.

OFFICE OF ASSISTANT COMMISSARY-GENERAL OF SUBSISTENCE, No. 4 STATE-ST.,
NEW-YORK, April 4, 1863.

Sealed proposals will be received by the undersign at this office, until 4 o'clock P. M., on SATURDAY, the 18th inst., for supplying BEEF CATTLE for the use of the United States army, to be delivered at the WASHINGTON DROVE YARDS, New-York City, or at some other convenient point in, or in the near vicinity of the City of New-York, to be designated by the undersigned, and in such numbers as may from time to time be required, not exceeding one thousand head in any calendar month from the 1st of May, 1863, to the 31st day of October, 1863; notice to be given to the contractor on Saturday of each week, on his application at this office, of the number of cattle he shall be required to deliver during the following week.

As the cattle will be required for shipment, none but first quality of oxen or steers, entirely free from all blemishes or imperfections, and not less than four years old, will be received; and no lot of cattle the average gross rate of which is not as high as thirteen hundred and fifty pounds, nor any bullock of less gross weight than twelve hundred and fifty pounds. The exact gross weight of each bullock to be ascertained by the scales; time of weighing to be determined by the Inspector on the part of the United States, Mr. George Starr, whose certificate of inspection, stating the number of cattle delivered, their weight, &c., will constitute the voucher, on presentation of which the accounts will be paid when funds are in hands for the purpose. Each proposal, to be entertained, must have a printed copy of this advertisement pasted at its head, and be in the following form:

"I, A—— B——, of the city or town of ——, County of ——, State of ——, hereby propose to deliver to the Subsistence Department of the United States Army, at the Washingtn Drove-yards, New-York City, or other point in or near said city, to be designated, such number o Beef Cattle, not exceeding one thousand head in any calendar month, of the quality, condition, &c., described in the advertisement above posted, as I may from time to time be required to furnish on due notification, at —— cents per pound gross weight."

To be subscribed by two responsible sureties as follows:

We, the undersigned, hereby agree that should the above bid be accepted, we will give our bond in the sum of ten thousand dollars that the contract shall be fulfilled.

—— —— ——

The ability of the sureties to respond in the sum of ten thousand dollars must be certified by the U. S. District-Attorney or other proper officer; such certificate to accompany the proposal.

Proposals to be indorsed "Proposals for Beef Cattle." The right exists with the United States to reject any or all the bids that shall not be regarded as satisfactory. All bidders to be present at the opening.

QUARTERMASTER-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON CITY, March 19, 1863.

OWNERS OF STEAM VESSELS ARE INvited to send to the Quartermaster-General's Office tenders for their charter or sale.

Senders should contain descriptions of the vessels, their dimensions, enrolled or registered tonnage, actual carrying capacity, material, whether coppered, whether side-wheel or propellers, whether iron or copper fastened, size and power of engines and boilers; and should state the price at which they are offered, for long or short charter, with the estimated value of the vessel in case of loss, or in case the Government should prefer to purchase instead of chartering.

Owners of steam vessels already in the service of the Quartermaster's Department are requested to make known to the Department any reduction in their present rates which they may be willing to grant, and also the price at which they will be willing to sell them.

All such tenders should be addressed to the Quartermaster-General of the United States at Washington, and should be indorsed,

"Proposals for charter or sale of steamers."

When received they will be considered, and the Department will endeavor to reduce the heavy expense attending army transportation, upon the ocean and tide-waters, by substituting, wherever it can do so, cheaper vessels of equal capacity for those now employed.

For delivery on the 11th of May, 1863, the same quantity as above.

For delivery on the 18th of May, 1863, the same quantity as above.

For delivery on the 25th of May, 1863, the same quantity as above.

Proposals for different articles must be on separate sheets of paper.

Small samples to accompany proposals for all articles except meats.

Each bid must have a printed copy of this advertisement posted at its head, and must be specific in complying precisely with all the terms. Each bid, to have consideration, must contain the written guaranty of two responsible names, as follows.

"We, the undersigned, hereby guarantee that should all or any part of the above bid be accepted, it shall be duly fulfilled according to its true purport and conditions; also, that a written contract with bonds to the amount of one-fourth the value of the stores proposed to be furnished shall be executed, if required."

Bidders may propose for the whole or a part of any article.

Certificates of inspection by professional packers or inspectors, other than the party furnishing the provisions, will be required for all the meats, certifying on the part of the seller their present quality and condition, and the immediately preceding inspection. The meats will also be examined and passed upon by Robert P. Getty, inspector on the part of the United States. The seller's name, place of business, with date of purchases, is required on each package of every article.

All the stores will be carefully inspected before their delivery, and compared with the retained samples. Returns of weights signed by a professional Public Weigher must be furnished whenever required.

Payment, as heretofore, to be made in such funds as may be furnished by the United States.

Contractors are expected to hold their goods, without expense to the United States, until required for shipment.

Proposers whose bids are not accepted are requested to send for their samples on TUESDAY, 28th instant.

Blanks for Proposals will be furnished at this office, which must be inclosed in an envelope addressed to the undersigned, and indorsed, "Proposals for Subsistence Stores,"

EQUAL TO HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

THE PERILS OF THE SEASON
AND
HOW TO AVOID THEM.

It is of infinite importance to the public to know that
HOSTETTER'S
STOMACH BITTERS

prevent, relieve and cure the complaints most prevalent in this climate during the SPRING OF THE YEAR.

Their preventive operation is simple. Acting directly upon the stomach, and through the stomach upon the liver, the bowels, the circulation, and the nervous system, they impart to the whole organization a degree of vigor and elasticity which enables us to resist the unhealthy atmospheric influences, by which so many distressing maladies are produced and prolonged. The great predisposing cause of sickness is CONSTITUTIONAL and PHYSICAL DEBILITY. Disease, like a coward, generally assails the feeble, and turns aside from the strong. And this is especially true of the forms of disease which prevail at the breaking up of Winter. The first warm days of the Spring sun seem to thaw out from the frozen earth the elements of innumerable ailments. The miasma which the frost had hermetically sealed up, is let loose in clouds of vapor, and Fever and Ague, Bilious Remittent Fevers, Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Diphtheria, Rheumatism, Bilious Colic, Asthma, Coughs, Colds, Physical and Mental Depression, and a low and feeble condition of all the vital functions, are among the most common consequences of the great Spring thaw which fills the air with unwholesome damps. Fortify in advance against these prostrating and destructive agencies. Iron-plate the system, as it were, by resorting to a pure tonic and alterative, which will bring every organ and fibre of the frame into the best possible state for resisting the flying arrows of disease, which the fogs and winds of March, April and May bear upon their mephitic wings. Remember that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are like a strong garrison thrown into a fort before the approach of the enemy. They forearm the citadel of life against the attacks of all maladies that arise from sudden changes of temperature, impure air, privation, exposure, excessive labor, and malarious exhalations. Hence they are

INVALUABLE IN CAMP,

and no military hospital ought to be without a sufficient supply, both for preventive and remedial purposes. Happily the attention of the

has been directed to the subject, and the proprietors of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS congratulate the troops now in arms for the Union on the probability that the ADULTERATED CONTRACT STIMULANTS, at present used as medicines by the army Surgeons, will soon be superseded by the purest and best Tonic, Alterative and Invigorant that has ever been presented to the Faculty in this or any other country. Since the war commenced considerable quantities of the preparation have been forwarded from time to time to field and line officers, both in the Western and Eastern armies, for their own personal use; and letters from some of the most eminent military men in the service attest the extraordinary virtues of the Bitters as a means of sustaining strength and promoting health in the midst of hardship and exposure, and also as a safe stimulant for the wounded. As private citizens, many of the officers of volunteers had proved the hygeian properties of the article, and, therefore, wisely resorted to it as a protective and a remedy, where their health is necessarily in greater peril than it would be in civil life.

Dyspepsia is never so general or so distressing as at this season. The appetite is keener, and is indulged to a greater extent in the Winter than at any other time of the year, and the consequence is, that the functions of the stomach, bowels and liver are over-taxed during the cold weather, and are often in a relaxed and partially torpid condition when Spring arrives. NOW, therefore, this is a time to brace up the digestive and secretive organs for the Summer campaign with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. To neglect this precaution under such circumstances, is to invite CHRONIC INDIGESTION, the most melancholy and disheartening of all complaints.

As a REMEDY as well as a Preventive, this celebrated medicinal cordial ranks among the most potent preparations of the age. It breaks up intermittent and remittent fevers promptly and without debilitating the patient, and is equally efficacious in disorders of the liver and the bowels. For all complaints of the stomach it is as nearly infallible as anything of human origin can be expected to be; and in cases of general weakness it is literally a VITALIZING ELIXIR. Convalescents will find it the safest and best Invigorant and Restorative ever administered to exhausted humanity. It is guaranteed to be absolutely free from all the corrosive elements which enter into the composition of ordinary diffusive stimulants, and its effect upon the nervous system is wonderfully soothing and quieting.

Let those who wish to insure their health for the Summer use HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS as a Spring medicine.
